Families Seek 'Survival' Guns

VANCOUVER (CP)—A downtown gun dealer said Monday he sold three to four guns a day last week to people who wanted them for "home protection" in the event of a nuclear attack.

The dealer said buyers said they wanted to defend their families from anyone trying to enter their fallout shelters.

Sandys 'Clears The Air'

ACCRA (Reuters)—Commonwealth Relations Secretary Duncan Sandys and Ghana's President Kwame Nkrumah talked for two hours Monday in an effort to "clear the air" between Britain and Ghana before a royal visit by Queen Elizabeth next month.

They will meet again today.

POOR RELATIONS

There have been widespread reports in both the British and Ghanaian press about deteriorating relations between Britain and its former West African territory.

Some British press reports claim Nkrumah wants to get the royal visit cancelled, fearing that a tremendous reception the Queen is expected to receive here will point up his own weakening prestige.

PRESS ATTACK

Worst-Ever Forest Toll Passes 7,600,000 Acres

OTTAWA (UPI)—Toll of forest fires this season, certain to be the worst on record, will surpass the record set in 1919 when 7,600,000 acres of forest were burned by 5,223 fires, according to officials.

At the end of August, 7,360,000 acres had been burned or damaged by 9,650 fires this season.

'Bomber' Harris Blasts Historians

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain's wartime air chiefs hit back Monday in a bitter controversy over a new official history of the bombing offensive against Nazi Germany. The history claims the aerial campaign was a "costly failure" for three-quarters of the Second World War. (See also Page 2.)

Sir Arthur (Bomber) Harris, marshal of the Royal Air Force and wartime chief of the Bomber Command, joined with Air Vice-Marshal Donald Bennett in protesting against alleged inaccuracies and omissions in the history entitled The Strategic Air Offensive Against Germany, 1939-1945.

Harris emerged from his self-imposed seclusion at his Thames-side home to condemn the history as "biased from cover to cover."

He told reporters the night bombing attacks by the RAF that killed more than 1,000,000 Germans contributed decisively to the allied victory.

Bennett, who commanded the famed RAF Pathfinder force, said "this cold, critical and inaccurate history, is to say the least, an astonishing act of ingratitude."

The 1,700-page, four-volume history was compiled by the late Sir Charles Webster and Dr. Noble Frankland, director of the Imperial War Museum and a former member of the Bomber Command.

The authors wrote that the Bomber Command started "terror raids" on cities because it was incapable of hitting anything smaller.

Overthrow Nasser Syria Tells Egypt

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI)—Damascus radio in newly independent Syria broadcast an appeal last night to Egyptians to revolt against the rule of President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The broadcast, heard here, said the appeal was signed by 17 politicians "working in the national and nationalist fields" in Syria. (See stories Page 8.)

HANDS EXTENDED

"The Arab people in Syria... extend their hands to brotherly Arab peoples in Egypt, who are fettered with chains, to free themselves from the dictatorial rule which caused the separation between Egypt and Syria," the Syrian broadcast said.

OFFICER HELD

became Nasser's right hand man in Syria, has been arrested.

The charges were that he had tried to "subvert" the Thursday revolution that here Syria looms from Nasser's United Arab Republic. Syrian sources in Beirut said the arrest might end the west-pointed demonstrations being fomented in Syria by Egyptians.

Dispatches from Damascus reported the nation calm under the leadership of Premier Al-Kuzbari although Nasser continued to insist in a Cairo speech that fighting was still going on.

UAR Act Upsets Turkey

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—Turkey expressed regret and surprise Monday that the United Arab Republic is severing diplomatic relations with Ankara following recognition by Turkey of Syria's new breakaway government.

"We find it difficult to understand how this clear position of the Turkish government, which was based on the attitude of all concerned, could be misinterpreted as though it were against anyone," declared Turkish Foreign Minister Selim Sarper.

Cairo announced Sunday that President Nasser was breaking relations with both Jordan and Turkey, the first to recognize the provisional Damascus regime.

Diefenbaker Going to UN?

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker indicated after a cabinet meeting Monday that he may go to New York to address the United Nations General Assembly.

A full-scale search with a tracking dog is due to start at dawn today for a Victoria hunter missing in the rugged wilderness nine miles west of Shawnigan Lake since Sunday afternoon.

Gerhard L. Knudsen, about 30, of 1020 Tattersall, didn't show up at a pre-arranged rendezvous with two hunting partners at 5 p.m. Sunday after the trio had been hunting for three hours on the slopes of Mount Lazar, 30 miles northwest of Victoria.

WAITED HOUR

His companions, Fred Stalley, 20, of 6306 Oldfield, and Ernest Frech, 42, of Cobble Hill, waited for an hour at the rendezvous. Then they started a groping search on their own on the darkened slopes of the mountain, looking vainly for three hours.

'TOOTED HORN'

"We returned to the car and tooted the horn, fired about 35 shots all over the area, before we nearly ran out of gas," Stalley said.

After about an hour of driving over a maze of logging roads looking for some trace of their companion, the pair returned to Shawnigan Lake for gasoline and notified the RCMP.

SEARCH CONTINUED

Frech returned home and, with the help of a logging camp watchman, Stalley continued the search until 1 a.m. yesterday.

At daylight Frech and Stalley resumed the road patrol and search along the slopes. They were later joined by an RCMP constable and Jack Lenfesty of the provincial game department.

FAMILY AWAY

Knudsen is a truck driver for Crystal Spring Beverage Co. Ltd.

His wife and two children are on a three-week holiday in California, a family friend said last night.

'EXPERIENCED HUNTER'

Stalley said Knudsen is an experienced hunter, and "knows how to handle himself in the bush."

Victoria Flying Club pilot Mike Sealey, with copilot Douglas Gilliland, flew over the area last night but didn't see any indications of a campfire.

Robert Sinclair, a game department inspector, said plans were being made for a search to start early this morning under Const. Bud Bowyer and game wardens.

HAS RIFLE

An RCMP tracking dog was being brought from Cloverdale overnight to assist in the search.

The hunter is carrying a rifle, a knife and matches, his partners said.

Stalley said a number of Knudsen's co-workers had volunteered to join the search this morning.

GERHARD L. KNUDSEN

De Gaulle Threatens New Grab

PARIS (UPI)—President Charles de Gaulle appealed last night for national unity to combat the mounting wave of terrorism, continued bloodshed and the haunting fear of civil war. His television speech was sabotaged in Algeria.

De Gaulle threatened to resume supreme dictatorial powers to guide France through its "hard and dangerous passage." He said he would dissolve parliament and hold a nationwide referendum vote if France becomes embroiled in another grave political crisis.

CABLES SABOTAGED

His speech was broadcast here and in Algeria, but in the West Algeria port of Oran settler extremists sabotaged it by blowing up transmission cables 10 minutes before the broadcast was due to begin, darkening screens throughout the city.

De Gaulle announced plans to organize immediately a police force for Algeria to supervise an eventual self-determination referendum in the North African territory.

NO HESITATION

He had abandoned last Saturday the emergency powers he assumed during the April general revolt in Algeria but warned he would not hesitate to use them again if necessary.

Meanwhile, in Algiers, French police raided a headquarters of the Secret Army Organization. Earlier the OAS successfully called off French settlers in a 30-minute strike.

Speaking before a nationwide television and radio audience, de Gaulle said France is "obliged to decide for itself and to invite our allies to remain firm and upright in face of the summonses of the totalitarian bloc."

"Nothing would be more dangerous for our cause, for our security and for our alliance and for peace than to retreat step by step from those who threaten us," he continued.

He said that, as soon as threats ceased, France would be ready to enter into constructive negotiations.

Firm Front By Allies Demanded

PARIS (Reuters)—President de Gaulle called on the Western Allies Monday night to remain firm in the face of Communist threats and to hold off negotiations until the threats cease.

Speaking before a nationwide television and radio audience, de Gaulle said France is "obliged to decide for itself and to invite our allies to remain firm and upright in face of the summonses of the totalitarian bloc."

"Nothing would be more dangerous for our cause, for our security and for our alliance and for peace than to retreat step by step from those who threaten us," he continued.

He said that, as soon as threats ceased, France would be ready to enter into constructive negotiations.

LET'S TALK

By Rudolf Fleisch

One of the heroes of liberalism is the late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, who served the U.S. Supreme Court until he was 91 and was known as "the great dissenter." His name has become a symbol for upholding freedom and the rights of the individual in the face of a conservative majority.

Now there is a new book, "Justice Holmes, Natural Law and the Supreme Court," by the former U.S. Attorney General Francis Biddle. (Macmillan). The book says he'd probably side with the conservative majority and usually a different light. If he were

Always Changing

How come? Well, Mr. Biddle writes, the key thing about Justice Holmes was not his liberalism, but his skepticism of the court's conservatives and complete freedom of the individual. He didn't believe in any eternal, "natural" law or in the blind application of fixed principles to the ever-changing cases that came before the court. "Law, like life, is constantly changing... The role of the judge is to discover and follow, so far as he can, the substance of the law which, at any given time, corresponds with what is understood to be convenient."

Hardly Any Doubt

Suppose the evidence against him has been given in secret and he's been denied the opportunity to face his accuser in open court. How would Holmes decide such a case?

There's hardly any doubt that Holmes would uphold the right of the government to fire such a person. Nobody, he'd say, has a constitutional right not to be fired from a job.

If such a case came before the U.S. Supreme Court now, says Mr. Biddle, the five conservatives probably would favor the agency and the four liberals would probably be on the side of the employee. Which means that Holmes, "the great dissenter," would be found on the side of the majority.

Of course all this is pure conjecture, but I think Mr. Biddle has raised a most interesting point. All of the liberals today agree Oliver Wendell Holmes was one of the wisest men who ever lived. And yet it seems clear he would disagree with much of what today's liberals think.

Your Good Health

Cortisone Can Help Sarcoidosis Cases

By JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: My sister-in-law has a persistent cough. The doctor says it is sarcoidosis, but does not give any further explanation.

"What is sarcoidosis? Where does it come from—chickens? Is there any cure?"

"And please tell me what it is like—C. M. G."

Sarcoidosis is a disease involving the formation of many small lumps, known as "tubercles," and for a time it was believed to be related to tuberculosis.

Today the belief is that it is an entirely separate disease. The cause isn't known, but it occurs in heavily wooded areas.

Anyway, it is most apt to occur between the ages of 20 and 30 or 40; and, for no known reason, it occurs more often in women. Sarcoidosis used to be considered rare, but continued study and awareness of it prove it is fairly common.

Whatever the cause, it can involve almost any part of the body, but the places it is most apt to be found are the lungs, skin, lymph nodes, eyes and bone.

Treatment? There's no specific remedy, but fortunately, although it takes time, the disease tends to clear itself up in the majority of cases. The one medicine which has proved its value in hastening the healing process is cortisone, or, more accurately, the various steroid hormones of the cortisone family.

The question at the end of the letter about itris makes me wonder whether this happens to be a case which involves the eyes as well as lungs. This is quite possible.

"Iritis" is a term meaning inflammation of the iris, or colored part of the eye. Sarcoidosis is one of many conditions which can inflame this part of the eye and hence cause "iritis."

"Dear Dr. Molner: I was told it's a sine law to remove the appendix when you are operated on for other surgery. Is this true?—Mrs. M. S."

No. It's a not uncommon practice if the operation in question makes removal of the appendix a simple matter.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Every time before my monthly period I have a fever blister which comes on the same place on my lip. It starts a couple of days before, and doesn't go away for a week or 10 days. What can be done about it?—Mrs. J. K."

This is a form of Herpes simplex or, in everyday language, a cold sore. Occasionally it is seen recurring in the same area, the timing co-ordinated with menstruation. There are plenty of theories as to precisely why it happens, and quite possibly one of the theories may be right—but I don't know which one.

Oddly enough, one of the things which has proved to be effective in some cases is for the doctor to give several vaccinations with smallpox vaccine. This does not mean that the cold sore has any connection with smallpox. Nevertheless by some odd quirk of viruses, this works.

Feuding Princes To Meet

VIENTIANE (UPI) — Negotiators from Laos' pro-Western neutralist and pro-Communist factions yesterday called a meeting of this kingdom's three contending princes for Friday to choose the next Laotian premier.

Delegates representing all three factions agreed that the feuding princes would meet at the village of Banthouang.

DAVID PRATT

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States announced yesterday it is pressing ahead with urgent measures to bolster South Viet Nam in its battle against Communist guerrillas.

A state department spokesman said he agreed with South Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem's description of the guerrilla activity in the Southeast Asian nation as "a real war."

Press officer Joseph Reap said that U.S. has been increasing aid since Vice-President Lyndon B. Johnson visited Southeast Asia some months ago to discuss defence against Communist expansion.

"We are pressing ahead with urgent measures to increase the ability of the Vietnamese soldier to defend his country," Reap said.

Reds Fire 16th A-Bomb

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Russia yesterday fired its 16th fallout producing atomic bomb in the current series, equalling the number detonated in its heavily-radioactive 1958 experiments.

Test over the Arctic island Novaya Zemlya had an explosive force equal to 1,000,000 tons of TNT (one megaton).

Detroit Blast Claims 4

DETROIT (UPI)—Four persons were killed and nine injured yesterday in an explosion and fire that hit a small plastics firm in downtown Detroit.

The victims were identified as Joanne Watson, about 20, Omega Travis, 44, and Olga Yefech, 30, all of Detroit, and Jerry Webster, about 23, Lincoln Park.

Webster's body still had not been recovered from the ruins of the Spurling Plastics Industries Inc. plant several hours after the blast.

The women, all employees, were so badly burned that identification of their bodies was delayed.

'Husband' or Peer?

LONDON—Buckingham Palace has officially designated Anthony Armstrong-Jones as "the husband of a member of the royal family," but will the Queen make him a peer soon?

As "the husband" of Princess Margaret, who expects her first child in a month, he will perform his first official engagement Thursday by opening a Scottish art exhibition in Glasgow.

To reports he'll become a peer before the baby is born, a Palace spokesman said: "When the Queen is ready to give him a title, she'll do it."

BLOEMFONTEIN, South Africa—David Pratt, English-born gentleman farmer who tried to assassinate Prime Minister Verwoerd in 1960, hanged himself with a bedsheet in a mental institution. He would have been 52 today. A note said: "Under the circumstances it is the best possible solution for everyone."

RIO DE JANEIRO—Capt. Henrique Calvao and Gen. Humberto Delgado, foes of Premier Salazar's Portuguese government have left Brazil amid reports they plan to lead an armed revolt in Portugal.

ROOSEVELT FALLS, N.Y.—Grandma Moom, who was 101 Sept. 7, was critically ill during the weekend but was reported improved yesterday.

AMRITSAR, India — Tara Singh, 78, ended the "fast unto death" he began Aug. 15 for a Sikh-dominated Punjab speaking state when the Indian government assured him an inquiry would be held.

A Wise Move

WISELY fearing for the Queen's safety during her scheduled visit to Ghana in November, the British government has dispatched its secretary of state for Commonwealth Relations to personally investigate the political situation in the former colony.

For some months now it has been obvious that an anti-Western feeling has been spreading through the African republic—a feeling deliberately engendered and fostered by its president, Dr. Kwame Nkrumah.

For far too long Whitehall has been so blinded by its faith in the success of its warship and training of its former colonies that it cannot see facts as they are.

And the facts are that under Dr. Nkrumah's dictatorial guidance Ghana has left the Western fold. The self-declared dedicated foe of all that represents colonialism—past and present—he is now determined to do anything to demonstrate his loyalty to the cause of Communism by making Britain eat humble pie.

So far he has succeeded admirably. He has destroyed in everything but name only the British-patterned parliamentary and judiciary systems, so painstakingly established by the former colonial administrators; he has removed the freedom of the press; he has ignominiously sacked his British military adviser, and blatantly insulted British and other Commonwealth ministers.

In the light of all this it is hard to believe that Dr. Nkrumah has invited the Queen to his country for any other reason than to bait her in the eyes of his fellow Ghanaians and his Moscow friends.

No matter what answers Mr. Duncan Sandys comes back with after his talks with Dr. Nkrumah, it would be well for the British government to recall the indignities to which the King of Belgium was subjected on his visit to the Congo just prior to its declaration of independence—indignities which heralded a vicious massacre of hundreds of Belgian men, women and children in that country.

Though it is unlikely that such repercussions would follow the Queen's visit to Ghana, the most sensible course would be for the British government to cancel, or at least postpone, the proposed Royal tour. Despite her great personal charm and ability, no matter what she represents, it is unlikely that she can succeed where her diplomats have failed.

Dr. Nkrumah, and therefore Ghana, has made his choice. Let it stay at that. It does not call for a Royal sacrifice.

Cease Fire?

NO ONE seems to know why the time-gun is fired twice daily at Work Point Barracks although the answer, even if lost in the mists of military custom, seems fairly clear. It would be to tell citizens the time.

Military lore reflects many curious origins but presumably in the early days of settlement few people carried watches or had access to the clock. The army therefore came to their rescue in this as in other ways by firing a gun at noon and nine p.m. Whereupon no doubt the citizens fashioned their activities according to these signals.

The situation is scarcely the same today. People cannot escape the "time" even if they wanted. A watch is a commonplace and there are clocks all over the place. In addition such things as factory whistles and radio broadcasts leave no room for wonder as to what the time-of-day is.

One hesitates to suggest any breach from honored custom, especially where the armed services are concerned. But is there any need for the time-gun? Could it not be ordered to cease fire?

This might shake the foundations of military lore but that would be better, surely, than shaking the foundations of houses which have time-pieces of their own.

What They Want

THE AVERAGE male cannot help but be impressed by the increasing frequency with which the gentler sex demonstrates its ability to think in straight lines. Indeed it has long been suspected among many of the spear-side that the distaff-side has a long head-start over them when it comes to plain, everyday common sense.

Credence attends this suspicion with some force when one hears, for instance, that 76 housewives attending the Chicago National Congress on Better Living demanded that all cars of the future be made of unbreakable plastic so that they could henceforth nudge each other on the highways and byways without worrying about scratches.

Far from being contented with this alone, they also recommended that fenders be eliminated so that the problem of "little dents" would be overcome. Nor was that all. They called for passenger cars to be equipped with safety belts all round and to have waterproof interiors and a drainpipe so that they could be hosed out after taking the children for a ride.

Here then is enough straight-to-the-point thinking to guide the automotive industry for the next five years.

While lofty male designers—many of whom won't even consider thinking for less than a six-figure salary—spend their time mulling over such trivia as horsepower, chromium trim and side-arm ratchet breaker protection cover plate bolt catches, the girls get right down to business by telling the makers exactly what they want: just a plain, safe car that is unbreakable, unscratchable, undentable and washable.

If the cars of the automotive industry know what's good for them they'll get cracking on these demands right away, for despite their stratospheric positions in this all-male world of trade and commerce, they know full well that once women have made up their minds it takes a miracle to change them.

And unfortunately for the cars there has been a great shortage of this type of miracle lately.

Thinking Aloud

... of shoes, and ships,
and sealing wax...

By TOM TAYLOR

I DON'T suppose it matters to you whether the red or the green light of a traffic signal is assembled top or bottom; enough for the evil thereof when at standstill that red should give way quickly to green. One hadn't thought of there being any priority about this mundane use of color.

But deep down, you see, color is kin to national feeling. You would notice at any rate that in an Irish section of New York state—Tipperary Hill, no less, which speaks for itself—the green light is uppermost.

The news item doesn't suggest that if it were on the bottom as elsewhere this would be an affront to expatriates of the Emerald Isle; simply that when the red is over the green children throw stones at it. But there must be inherited instinct at work; it should be easier to hit the lower light.

Green or red? Actually there is an affinity between these two colors, which may be why they are the chosen traffic signals. The wearing of the green was a revolutionary theme, and red is supposed to be the color of liberty as well as of fluid in human veins, often spilled so that revolution might triumph.

Even Mr. Pearson can sense the color scheme of ideology, as for instance in relation to sport, which at the moment seems hard on the Cincinnati Reds. The latter in case you didn't know are due to meet the New York Yankees in a baseball imbroglio known as the world series, and besides being an old baseballer of some skill Mr. Pearson is an old contender of the diplomatic realm. How could he favor the Reds, he asks when it's not even safe to play left wing any more?

Spoken in jest, of course, but reflecting an awareness burned into people these days.

And yet red is not exclusively an ideological possession, as many a sports shirt amply proves. Page the Cincinnati Reds themselves, doubtless 100 per cent Americans to a man. Nor, for that matter, does green belong only to the Emerald Isle. Some laws in Victoria rival both Tipperary and Kilbranney, I daresay, and a study of national flags shows that Egypt's is green, whereas Elze's is only one-third green.

Perhaps it's as well if the children of Tipperary Hill don't bear about this, although they might. By mistake, of course, the kind that his disturbed school authorities in Sacramento. There by some recompense of fate copies of a textbook, and bearing the Canadian flag to boot, have been delivered for the use of third-grade readers.

This, naturally, is a grave affront to national sensibility, not one what diluted by the reverse circumstance, amazing enough in all conscience, that American textbooks perpetually indoctrinate Canadian school children.

Colorwise perhaps the defence is glossed by the red which appears on the American flag as well as on the Canadian emblem. It is a fact indeed that of some 40 national flags I've been looking at, no fewer than 31 of these are red in whole or in part. All nations believe in liberty, you see, even if their ideas about this elusive quality are oft at strange variance.

If green thus runs a poor second to red the children of Tipperary Hill, patiently, do their best to right the balance. And with much local success.

Incidentally a reader has sent me a sketch of a proposed Canadian flag designed by a friend of his and asks me if I am impressed. Without prejudice honesty compels me to say I am not. But the design does have one virtue related to today's causerie: it contains both red and green.

Washington Calling

THE future of the United Nations, even whether this rather battered symbol of peace shall continue to be housed in this great, sprawling city, still hangs in the balance.

Various proposals have been put forward for moving all or part of the UN to West Berlin. The American position is that some of the specialized agencies might well have headquarters in Berlin as part of the assumption that the city will remain free, with international conferences held there whenever possible.

But, however wise or unwise it may have been to select New York as the UN site, there can be no question of moving the whole show to West Berlin. Too much is at stake in terms of American support. If the UN were to be moved back, behind the Iron Curtain, Communism would certainly take fright.

The United States currently pays more than 30 per cent of the cost of the UN and its agencies. Of the emergency units — to maintain forces in the Congo and the Middle East — the United States has been paying nearly half the whole bill.

Century

Explore Canada

From The Globe and Mail

THE House of Commons has approved the government's plans for organizing the 1967 birthday party to mark the 100th anniversary of Canada's Confederation.

Prime Minister John Diefenbaker has stated: "It will represent a dramatic year in Canadian history and an opportunity for Canadians to develop a fuller understanding of what it means and can mean to be a Canadian."

The national birthday will undoubtedly attract many visitors from other countries. It is to be hoped that equally the events will persuade Canadians to travel more widely in their own land.

If we are to achieve the national unity and sense of purpose that is essential to Canada's continued progress, Canadians must get to know one another better than they do at the moment.

The prime minister has suggested that a special Confederation Train be filled with Canada's historical and constitutional documents and sent across the country during the centennial year. This is an admirable idea.

It is not enough, however, to take mementoes of Canada to Canadians. Our citizens should be encouraged to get out and see their country. It is a marvellously diverse and interesting land and it is a pity that many of those in the various provinces know so little about their distant neighbors.

Greater understanding can be brought about if a big enough effort is put forward to encourage the saving and the planning that is needed for such travel. Such an effort will be just as valuable to our national interests, perhaps even more so, than the attraction of visitors from abroad.

Too Much Is at Stake

By MARQUIS CHILDS

Nationalist China, one of the five permanent members of the Security Council, has contributed nothing to the Congo and is, in fact, behind on most of its UN contributions.

France and the Soviet Union have refused to contribute to the Congo operation and the Russians made no contribution to the Middle East operation. Because the cost of the emergency forces is not included in the overall cost of operating the UN, the rule that a country which fails to pay its share will be denied a vote may not run against either nation, although this is still to be determined.

This is not, however, a happy situation and there have been rumblings of discontent from Congress.

New York as the home of the UN has had a greatly improved record in the past year in housing and feeding the 100 delegates — 100 with the latest addition, Sierra Leone, and perhaps two more to come. One reason is the intensive effort of several dedicated members of the staff of the United States mission working in co-operation with the UN secretariat.

Despite two or three widely advertised incidents they have had considerable success in breaking down the barriers of prejudice and finding living quarters for the ambassadorial heads of delegations and their staffs. This has been far from easy, since they are dealing with highly sensitive Africans and Asians who sometimes seem to want to find an affront that will fit in with their preconception of racial discrimination in this country.

The ambassadors are more of a problem than the staff members, since they want luxury apartments and that often means a breakthrough in an apartment building that has maintained a race barrier.

Four or five ambassadors are currently on the waiting list. Hotels and restaurants have long been open to anyone who can pay the price, and include the coon tails that used to be:

either by tampering with the exhaust, or purchasing a gadget specially designed for the purpose, sport car owners can give their cars a sound of power.

Paul Hellyer's Pride

From The Letter Review

PAUL HELLYER, the Liberal defence critic in the Commons, continues to attack the Bomarc anti-aircraft missile and to praise the Avro Arrow manned interceptor, which it is replacing to a certain degree.

This is understandable, even beyond the point that the Arrow and its engines were to be built in Toronto and Hellyer represents a Toronto riding. Quite apart from Toronto and its interests, the Arrow may have promised to be a brilliant display of Canadian invention and enterprise in the aviation field.

What is not understandable, and most confusing to the average Canadian, is the manner in which Hellyer refers to the Arrow. He discusses the Arrow as an accomplished fact, as though it had been a finished product, tested and ready to be produced for squadron service when it was scrapped in February, 1959.

What Hellyer quotes so indignantly in defence debate are the specifications for the Arrow that were laid down by the defence department, not its performance. That Arrow, the one Hellyer talks about with such pride, never flew. It never even existed.

It was only a promise. And the promise even at that date, when it still had two years of testing ahead of it, was not at all certain to be fulfilled.

The much-publicized engine which was to power it, the Iroquois, was already a year or more behind its production schedule. The only thing about the Iroquois that ever did take off was its cost.

Eight prototype—experimental—Arrows were produced between October, 1957, and February, 1959. Flight tests were carried out—with the use of Pratt & Whitney engines less powerful than the Iroquois—while the whole project waited on the Iroquois. The aircraft never flew at more than 75 per cent of its specified speed.

It never flew under control of

Infantile Snorts

By GREGORY CLARK

THOSE alarming snorts and snores you hear from some sport cars are not snoring, Jim Ferguson, noted Canadian racing driver and now an importer of sport cars, assures me that none of the foreign sport cars coming into Canada are equipped with the noisy exhaust.

Either by tampering with the exhaust, or purchasing a gadget specially designed for the purpose, sport car owners can give their cars a sound of power.

"It's on a par," said a police officer who is now engaged in making a report on hot rods that disturb the peace, "with the coon tails that used to be:

high fashion on all car radio antennas and bicycle handlebars. It is infantile, actually. It is like the 'uh-uh-uh-uh' that small boys make with their imaginary tommyguns.

"Any time you hear a sport car or hot rod give out with that powerful snort, you can say to yourself, 'Ah, there goes a psychiatric case,' for if the owner is not infantile, he is at least troubled with the need to be noticed. He has faked up his muffler to give himself a false sense of power and to attract attention."

For proof, notice sport cars in general, and hear how quiet nearly all of them are.

There is no certainty that all would have gone well. The Hawker people in Britain have been building fighters since the First World War and they went terribly wrong just a few years ago.

They had to scrap some 300 Hawker Hunters, the prize product of their history and worth a couple of billion dollars. They discovered that when the Hunters approached fighting altitude and their guns fired, the engines stopped. They could not find out why.

Something like that could have happened to the Arrow, between 1958 and now. On the other hand, the Arrow might have been a great — though enormously expensive — triumph. But no one can be sure of that. So it's wise, when discussing the Arrow, to make a difference between what it was hoped to be and what it was set all?

How indeed?

Optima Report

Great Image

By ARTHUR BLAKELY,
from Washington

FOR a man who reached the presidency by the narrowest of margins, President Kennedy has been remarkably successful in consolidating his position.

Within his own party, President Kennedy's position is unchallenged.

Congress, which has indulged with relish in no-holds-barred rough-and-tumble with many presidents of the past, seems disposed to be co-operative with this interesting young man.

It is no exaggeration to say that in Washington, at least, more is expected of President Kennedy than of any president since Roosevelt.

He is all things to all men. Or almost all men. He is liberal, but not too liberal. He is conservative but not too conservative. He is a moderate, but not too moderate.

The experts on Capitol Hill say that he is handling a balky Congress with all the skill of FDR. They attribute his adroitness in the fact that the president is a graduate of the Senate and knows, in consequence, all of the tricks of the parliamentary trade.

We are hailed as the first president — again since Roosevelt — capable of expressing in simple, moving terms the principles and objectives of American policy. He is the West's orator par excellence, as Washington sees it.

Washington's liberals, in and out of the public service, who had gone into a state of eclipse and shock during the Truman and Eisenhower regimes, are returning to prominence. Many of them show their years. It's not easy to update a New Deal that derived its meaning from the conditions of the thirties. But they're giving it a whirl.

The president's public opinion poll remains high and steady. Further, the polls have produced the reassuring information that the American people, who may have felt that they were taking a long chance in entrusting the presidency to a Catholic, would be encouraged by Kennedy's performance to date to do it all over again if as when an opportunity were to present itself.

The president is regarded as one who can do combat on the most favorable terms, as the champion of the west, with the redoubtable Nikita Khrushchev.

Mr. Kennedy is seen, too, as a president capable of the grand vision, the great, sweeping design.

In his case, a northern vision is not specified, perhaps because Prime Minister Diefenbaker has long since established prior rights in this direction. The Kennedy vision, as far as can be learned, is more general in nature.

Already, the aura of perfection and infallibility surrounding Mr. Kennedy has caused some awkward moments.

Although Washington has done its best to forget the whole nasty business, it still finds itself wondering how President Kennedy could possibly have given the green light to that ill-conceived scheme for the invasion of Cuba. The invasion plans were bungled so badly in so many respects that convincing explanations which are at the same time compatible with the public image of the president are mighty hard to come by.

One is that he was grievously misled by some of his trusted advisers. But other presidents have managed to avoid such traps. Another explanation is that the Central Intelligence Agency was a victim of temporary insanity and that the president was swept along by a tide of misinformation until it was too late to turn back. Yet another is that the whole invasion was planned during the Eisenhower administration and that Mr. Kennedy hadn't really had time to take a good look at it before the pitifully small and ill-armed invading force was being slaughtered on the Cuban beaches. One more explanation is that Mr. Kennedy was still new in office and trying his new powers on for size when the Cuban crisis arose to catch an inexperienced president off guard.

The president himself has shouldered full responsibility for the fiasco, as indeed he must.

But how could a president having the qualities and characteristics attributed to Mr. Kennedy have given the signal for the tiny invading fleet to be set all? How indeed?

Letters to the Editor

Grateful

May we, through the medium of your paper express our humble and most heartfelt thanks to all the many friends, and even strangers who phoned to inquire of, or sent cards, letters, flowers and gifts for our little girl June, while she was in hospital, following her accident at the Saanichton Fair. A very special "thank you" to those who assisted immediately following the accident, and also to the Central Saanich firemen who answered the call for the ambulance so promptly. We are unable to thank all these personally, many for lack of name or address; but we are happy to say we have our little girl home with us again, where she is convalescing, and improving every day.

We shall never forget the many kind acts.
LILLIAN and LIONEL FARRELL.

Civil Service Parking

The omission of some words in my remarks quoted in the Colonist contradicts the meaning of my fourth recommendation for revised parking regulations near the government buildings.

My letter recommended, for streets fronted by government offices, unrestricted parking except for selected short zones where parking should be allowed on a one-hour limit for visitors to government offices.

A large share of "persecution" exists in the present "two-hour parking limit 10 a.m. to 3 p.m." which restricts parking on Superior and Michigan Streets, both fronting on government offices.

This type of restriction accomplishes nothing useful.
DAVIS M. CAREY.
2016 Romney Road.

Emergency Packs

How much longer are rational mature individuals to be subject to this flood of combined sales gimmicks and Civil Defence circulars—is war imminent? When does this "emergency" end?—when war starts?—or do we learn to live with it as we now live with an army, navy and air force. It appears to me to be the height of futility to prepare an emergency pack and then change water every month and food every six months for the rest of one's life. Incidentally, an "emergency pack" for my family of six would not fit into the trunk of my car even if I stood a chance of going anywhere in the car.

While realizing that governments have a responsibility to protect their citizens, it is my personal opinion that this present attitude is hastening the likelihood of war rather than the opposite. The argument that if you are prepared there is less likely to be a war is completely fallacious—one can as well argue that if an opponent knows you are preparing defences he will strike before you have a chance to fully prepare—and he might well be excused in thinking that you are preparing your defences prior to an attack yourself.

To see food stores, builders and manufacturers climbing onto the bandwagon for profit motive and thereby raising people's fears and encouraging hysteria makes me feel slightly sick. If as much administration and energy were put into establishing Canada as a major power after peace (as it used to be) and a stabilizing influence in the world today, then we might achieve some useful purpose.

ANTONY PARR.

Not Appreciated

A lot of work went into the cartoon "Ban the Bomb." However, much as I like a good laugh, I do not appreciate this one. Those people have known the horrors not experienced by some other countries, and are in deadly earnest. Perhaps those that enjoy it might not mind living on the banks of Holy Loch, for instance.

Absent MPs

I have been asked by our executive to draw to your attention the fact that during the recent debate in the House of Commons on the critical international situation fewer than 60 of our 265 members were in their seats to hear the Hon. Howard Green, Hon. Lester Pearson, and other prominent parliamentarians. This was a debate on Canada's role in the greatest crisis that has ever faced the human race.

As voters we should surely write and ask our member of parliament whether he was present, and if not why not. As the Toronto Globe asked editorially: "Where else would such neglect of duty be tolerated?" Most of these speeches received little or no coverage in the press. Hardly any Canadians really know what happens in Parliament. Earlier in the session during the one-day debate on the world situation there were only 67 members present!

It is surely a shocking state of affairs that in 173 days of Parliament's sitting so few of these have been given to considering Canada's position in the international situation.

EDITH GOULD.

The Motherland

I am sure all true Canadians were appalled when they read the statement of Mr. Douglas Fisher, CCF member for Port Arthur, that Canadians no longer looked to England as the mother country. I was born in Canada, my father and mother were born here before Confederation. England to us was always the mother land and as far as I am concerned will always be so. A British subject I was born, a British subject I shall die.

Go Back to School

I've just read a dispatch from Victoria anent the insane and uncalled-for remarks in reference to the British Isles uttered by that over-eloquent and noisy MP from the bushland and muskeg of the north of the Great Lakes, Dear old Colonel M. Dopping-Hepburn of Duncan who actively served the Commonwealth for more years than this MP is of age, put it tersely, "Poppycock."

For a school teacher by vocation D.F. displays a lamentable lack of even elementary history.

I should like to point out to this MP who very evidently is still wet behind the ears, that it was people from the British Isles who colonized our country of Canada (excepting Lower Canada province), developed it, established law and order, and eventually brought forth Confederation. But before Confederation the poor old British taxpayers carried Canada like an albatross around their necks, when the territory was little better than a land of mist and snow.

Go back to school, Dougie Fisher!

W. H. THOMAS.

Does He Know It?

In defence of the mother country, I would like to add a few words to those of others who were indignant on reading Mr. Douglas Fisher's statement a few days ago.

In the first place it was in very bad taste since he was a guest in England at the time, and secondly, I fail to see how he has the power to speak for the many without their authority.

Put this whole business of the mother country to rest, vote, and I think I know who would come out on top.

While I am a Canadian citizen and love Canada, I also love dear old England too—every inch of it—since my roots are there. I always think and speak proudly of it as being my motherland, and always will.

In days of prosperity it's easy for Mr. Fisher to make such a statement and to forget one's benefactor. Does he really know England? I doubt it.

Bandit Wounded
Police Await Call

OTTAWA (UPI) — Police are waiting for a wounded man's need for medical help to lead them to three masked gunmen who robbed an up-town bank and escaped after a wild 30-minute chase through city streets.

The gunmen, who got $2,000 from a Royal Bank branch, made their escape by out-distancing two police cruisers. It seemed certain one would have to leave their hideaway to obtain doctor's aid.

Blood stains throughout two abandoned cars showed the man, who accidentally shot himself while vaulting over a counter in the bank, was bleeding profusely.

Anglicans

Forum For World

OTTAWA (CP)—World Anglican leaders plan to take a "fearless look" at their church's ability to meet the new challenges of the nuclear age at the international Anglican congress in Toronto in 1963.

The world-wide congress, only the third held this century and probably the biggest Anglican meeting ever, will provide a forum for representatives from all 400 Anglican dioceses scattered throughout the world.

Among the 1,200 delegates will be the Archbishop of Canterbury, a leading U.S. atomic scientist and experts in race relations.

Details of tentative arrangements for the congress were disclosed Monday by Rt. Rev. R. S. Dean, Bishop of Cariboo, program committee chairman.

MEETING POINT

He said the congress, to be held Aug. 13-23, 1963, will be a meeting point for Anglicans all over the world to share problems and opportunities, and if possible discuss plans of action for the world's 40,000,000 Anglican congregation.

"My hope is that the Anglican Church will try to take a fearless look at itself in the light of the world in which we live."

YOUNGER CHURCHMEN

Bishop Dean also said the congress will study closely its relationship with younger Anglican churches in the newly-independent countries of Africa and Asia.

Robbery Stopped Holiday

SALEM, Ore. (AP) — Robert Bruce Monteith, 31, of Sherwood, Ore., is held here on $5,000 bail on an armed robbery charge stemming from complaints of three young Vancouver, B.C., women.

Marion Jean Ridley, 25, Maureen Joyce Pedersen, 22, and her sister Beverly Joy, 19, said this happened Sunday afternoon.

ON A CURB

They stopped at a motel on Portland's southwest edge en route to a vacation in Reno and were waiting, with luggage, on a curb for a bus.

Monteith, passing in a pickup truck, offered them a ride and they accepted. He drove to a road north of Salem, got out and took a rifle from the front seat.

TOOK HIS GUN

He ordered them out and a fight followed, during which they wrestled him to the ground and took the gun. Then he drew a hunting knife and frightened them into giving back the rifle. He drove away and later surrendered to police. A passerby rescued the girls.

Big Packers Didn't Want Brandon Firm

BRANDON (CP) — A real estate agent testified Monday he tried to sell Brandon Packers Ltd. to three major meat-packing companies before he finally arranged sale to two Toronto businessmen now charged with stealing from the firm.

Allan Bass of Winnipeg, a former representative of the Winnipeg firm of Arnovitch and Lelpeck Ltd., testified in the trial of Hugh Paton, 40 and Hubert Cox, 34.

Mr. Bass said he tried to interest Canada Packers, Swift Canadian and Burns in the plant without success.

Shell experts test for knock by accelerating at full throttle. In another test, that "fifth wheel" in the back is lowered onto the road to measure mileage precisely.

TOP PERFORMANCE:

Shell test crew reveals 5 ways to test your car for top performance—and how the 9 ingredients in today's Super Shell can help you get it

To Shell experts, top performance is a scientific standard. They measure it with precision instruments. But any good driver can run a version of their basic tests. Here are 5 they recommend.

IS YOUR CAR really delivering its best? It's easy to find out. Shell experts suggest five simple tests.

Test #1. Quick starting

Count the seconds it takes your engine to start your car. Under normal circumstances the engine should "snap to" in about two or three seconds. However, fast starting depends on many factors. Ask your Shell dealer to check the condition of plugs, points, battery and carburetor. Ask him about Shell X-100 Premium Motor Oil for painless starts at all temperatures. And try Super Shell. It's blended with a frisky ingredient called butane—to give you quick, easy starts.

Test #2. Smooth running

Does your engine vibrate roughly when idling? Does it seem to "surge" as you pull away, then falter and fade?

Shell scientists check figures after mileage test.

Sometimes these troubles can be corrected by minor adjustments of the carburetor and spark timing. Your Shell dealer can take care of this for you. But the problem may be the wrong blend of gasoline.

For example, summer heat may cause gasoline to bubble in the fuel lines. This leads to partial blockage, uneven flow of fuel. In spring and fall, carburetor icing due to dampness and cool temperatures may also cause rough idling in your engine.

Shell scientists protect you from rough idling year round. In summer, they adjust the volatility of Super Shell to bring you smooth, trouble-free driving. From October to May Shell adds an anti-icer to give added protection against carburetor icing.

Test #3. Reserve power

Next time you are accelerating onto the highway or overtaking another car, notice how your car accelerates. Now ask yourself:

- Did your car accelerate smoothly—without faltering, no bogging down?
- Do you have plenty of power to spare? If you feel you've "run out of engine," Super Shell may be your answer. It contains TCP* additive to help restore lost power. Another Super Shell ingredient, called Platformate, contains components that release 11 per cent more energy than the finest 100-octane aviation gasoline available.

Test #4. Knock

Accelerate up a long, steep hill and listen carefully.

If you hear a sharp, pinging noise in your engine, you've got knock. It could cause trouble.

Take no chances. Switch to Super Shell. Its formula includes no fewer than three ingredients to fight the various causes of knock.

Test #5. Miles per gallon

When you measure miles per gallon, follow these three simple steps.

1. Fill your tank to the brim. Write down your mileage reading.
2. Drive in your normal manner for at least three tankfuls. Keep a record of the exact amount you buy.
3. Fill your tank to the brim again. Add all the gallons you've bought (not counting the fill-up in step 1). Divide this amount into your total miles driven. This gives average miles per gallon.

Try this test with three tankfuls of Super Shell. You'll see what top performance really is.

Here are the 9 ingredients in today's Super Shell—and what they do to give your car top performance

- #1 is TCP for power, mileage, and longer plug life.
- #2 is "cat-cracked" gasoline—for extra power.
- #3 is anti-knock mix to resist all kinds of knock.
- #4 is heavy alkanes to control "high-speed knock."
- #5 is butane for quick starts.
- #6 is mixed pentanes for fast warm-ups.
- #7 is an "anti-icer." (Added in cold weather.)
- #8 is gum preventive to keep carburetors clean inside.
- #9 is Platformate for extra mileage.

'Veiled' Troika Plan Turned Down by U.S.

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—The U.S. Monday rejected a Soviet plan for the appointment of an interim UN secretary-general to succeed Dag Hammarskjöld.

"It maintains the idea of the troika—of dividing the world into three blocs," said U.S. delegate Adlai Stevenson. "There is no such world."

WELL KNOWN MAN

Under the Soviet formula, the 11-member Security Council would recommend to the 100-member General Assembly the appointment of a man well known in UN circles who would work in "daily co-operation" with three deputies now in the secretariat.

Russia specified the three countries would hail from Russia, the U.S. and "one of the countries of Asia or Africa," and would be urged to "act in a spirit of concert."

MUTUAL AGREEMENT

A Soviet statement said Russia did not have in mind utilization of the veto by any of the deputies but the temporary UN head must "seek to achieve mutual agreement with them on the major questions of the work of the secretariat." India was interested in some features of the Soviet formula.

707 Jet Now Hit By Snag

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—As the Federal Aviation Agency approved major modifications for DC-8 planes hit by hydraulic system faults, a Western Airlines 707 jetliner made an emergency landing in California suffering the same complaint—hydraulic failure.

The plane, bound for Los Angeles, landed safely at Edwards Air Force Base.

MONTREAL (CP)—Trans-Canada Air Lines DC-8 jet aircraft are behaving "very well" and have provided no great problems, a spokesman said here.

U.S. Road Crashes Claim 12 Lives

FREEMONT, Neb. (UPI)—

Seven of eight members of a job-hunting Blair, Neb., family died yesterday when a semi-trailer truck crashed broadside into their car, pinning all the occupants inside the crumpled vehicle.

FIVE CHILDREN

Dallas Talkington, 46, his wife, Dora, and five children were killed.

Talkington had sought jobs at a meat-packing plant and with a soup company here just before the collision.

Authorities said he pulled on to the highway through a stop sign into the path of the truck, which hit the car in middle, throwing it into the ditch.

CAR DEMOLISHED

In another tragedy in Marion County, Ind., five young students were killed when their car was demolished by a train at a railway crossing.

Two sets of brother and sister died, the eldest being 17, and a boy aged 14.

All the victims were students at Franklin Central High School and residents of Acton, an Indianapolis suburb.

Mayors Pledge Berlin Support

At a city hall ceremony, they presented to West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt telegrams of support and encouragement from the mayors of 572 other cities throughout the United States.

Syria Seeks UN Seat

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—The new Syrian government has taken what United Nations' officials regarded as a first step toward application for membership in the UN.

Nasser Hopeful Of New Unity Despite Revolt

By DOUG MARSHALL
(Canadian Press)

President Nasser's United Arab Republic may rise phoenix-like from the ashes of the Syrian revolt in a new if weakened form.

Reports of growing internal resistance to the new Syrian regime suggest that the cause of Arab unity—if not Arab socialism—is still alive.

BATTLES REPORTED

Cairo radio, which still speaks of itself as the voice of the U.A.R., reports fierce battles raging between troops and civilians in north Syria's key military base of Aleppo.

Violent demonstrations are reported elsewhere in the new republic and the refusal of Dr. Mamoun Kuzbari's government to open Syria's borders indicate the situation is still uncertain.

SIGNS OF TENSION

Damascus radio has not confirmed any internal uprising but there were signs of tension in its announcement that possession of arms by civilians has been banned and that schools and universities have been closed in Damascus and Aleppo.

One group of Arabs in Syria is almost certain to oppose Kuzbari's government. They are the 120,000 refugees from Palestine who support Nasser wholeheartedly.

Nasser himself thinks the sand storm will settle to reveal a new unity with Egypt perhaps less of an authoritarian parent and more of an equal partner.

Nasser's withdrawal of his troops and acceptance of the fait accompli in Damascus may ultimately prove more rewarding than the bloody counter-revolutionary war that would have ensued otherwise.

'Colonialist Wolves' Hit By Guinea

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—Guinea demanded yesterday that the "insatiable wolves of colonialism" get out of Africa completely.

Foreign Minister Beavogui Louis Lansana of Guinea, in a policy speech to the 16th United Nations General Assembly, reserved much of his condemnation on colonialism for Portugal, which he accused of "massacres" in Portuguese Angola.

But he also demanded that France, Britain and Belgium immediately relinquish control over their African possessions. He also called on South Africa to give up its policies of racial separation.

Red China Accuses U.S. After Demand on Tibet

HONG KONG (Reuters)—Marshal Chen-yi, Communist Chinese foreign minister, accused the United States yesterday of "flagrant interference in China's internal affairs" by directing its followers to include the "so-called Tibet question" on the United Nations General Assembly agenda.

Thailand and Malaya have called on the General Assembly to take urgent action to halt repressive measures being taken against the people of Tibet by the Chinese. "Nobody can deny that Tibet is a part of China's territory," the marshal said in a statement reported by the New China news agency. Chen-yi also condemned the U.S. for continued obstruction of Communist China's admission to the UN.

China Issue Still Unsettled

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—

The Security Council adjourned Monday without taking action on membership applications of Outer Mongolia and Mauritania, an issue expected to affect Nationalist China's future in the UN.

The council approved without objection the adjournment proposal of Liberian delegate Christie Doe. The 11-nation group adjourned indefinitely.

'Dead' Man's Revival Kills Mother-in-Law

CARACAS (Reuters)—When grave-diggers shovelled the first spadefuls of earth into a grave in the village cemetery at Pecaya, the "dead" man, Roberto Rodriguez, victim of a heart attack, burst open the lid of the coffin, scrambled out of the grave and ran home shouting and swearing.

His mother-in-law, who was standing at the graveside, dropped dead from shock.

She will be buried in the grave prepared for her son-in-law.

AT THE 19th

With Harry Young

When Dr. George Bigelow was allocated the task of picking the players to present "the rest" in the challenge match against Gorge Vale on Oct. 14, one of the problems was "should he pick himself?"

The players from Victoria, Colwood and Uplands are to comprise the challenging team, and at Victoria, the doctors' home club, there were four very live candidates—the doc himself, Bill McColl, Laurie Carroll and Roy Chappell.

To put himself off the hook Dr. Bigelow decided to have a playoff with the two low scorers over 18 holes winning the right to selection.

Because of his professional commitments, Laurie Carroll decided to stand down, so that the playoff was confined to three.

With five holes to play Bigelow was three strokes behind his rivals, but he caught them up and finished level with Roy Chappell, so that he and the young assistant pro will be the Victoria representatives in the match.

The doctor-selector is not yet able to name his men from the other two clubs, pending confirmation of availability, but it looks now as if Laurie Kerr and George Andrews will be Colwood's men, and that Gordon Fallow and Fred Ranson will represent Uplands. All of these players have exceptionally good records in the Inter-Club League, and the side is certain to put up a strong battle even though the league champions have the advantage playing on their own turf.

John Merriman won the Gorge Vale championship for the third time, and for the second year in succession when he beat club president John Carlow, 5-3, over 36 holes on Sunday.

John won his first club title in 1951, and then had to wait nine years for his second.

Although in the end it was fairly easy for Merriman, Carlow put up a gallant fight and was one up on the first round. However, Merriman played the 15 holes of the second round in five under par to carve himself out a handsome win.

The most exciting of the quarter-finals of the club championship at Colwood Sunday was the last hole finish at the Vic Painter-Harold Jacobsen match.

Vic was five up at the 8th before the young left-hander found his form and started a recovery that brought the match square at the 17th, where Jacobsen sank a four-footer for a birdie three.

For most players the loss of a five-hole lead would have been the end, but not so Vic Painter. He proceeded to wrap up the match with a par four on the last hole.

The win enabled Painter to qualify for a semifinal match against favorite Laurie Kerr, who beat Stan Evans, 7 and 6.

In the other semifinal, Bill McColl meets club-president Don Ross. McColl beat George Ault, 3 and 2, and Robb beat Bill Garner, 5 and 4.

Doug Fletcher, who is head of the committee lining up sporting events for Victoria's centennial celebrations next summer, has asked the Victoria District Golf Committee to put up some suggestions for a golfing event.

The golf committee will consider the matter at its next meeting. Three years ago, on the occasion of the B.C. centenary, the committee took over a centennial foursomes competition with the government putting up the trophy and prizes.

The open buttons make their return to the golfing program Sunday at Royal Colwood when John Merriman and Art Donaldson of Gorge Vale meet Ken Lawson and Gordon Fallow of Uplands.

Challenger in the open buttons are being selected this year by the individual clubs, and Uplands tried out a number of teams in a qualifying test. This was won by Lawson and Fallow with a best ball of 61. Fallow shooting a 67.

Junior buttons will also be at stake at Colwood Sunday when Jim Cathro and Al Manson of Victoria make a second defence of the buttons they won two weeks ago. This time they meet Ken Campbell and Rick Nott of Gorge.

Cathro and Manson had a close call last week against Noel Pumphrey and John McCormick, another Gorge couple. They won by one hole at Victoria.

Manitoba Senior Golf Association wants to see a Willingdon Cup type of competition put on for senior golfers across Canada. As the juniors now have a team contest on a national basis, why not the seniors too, they ask.

The matter is to be brought up at the annual meeting of the RCGA early next year by Jack Blair, well-known Winnipeg golfer and a former president of the RCGA.

Track Electrician Scores as Outsider

Roy Warden is a race track tote-board electrician who likes to slip away and fish wherever his track travels take him. Sunday he tried Saanich Inlet, as he has done almost every day since the meet opened at Sandown, and took top prize in the Cerebral Palsy derby.

Warden, a native of Monrovia, Calif., caught a 14-pound, nine-ounce coho, using an orange and white bucktail fly, between Mill Bay and Senanus Island. It won him $100 and the Ming Kitchen Trophy.

Because Warden will be leaving as soon as the Sandown meet ends, a special replica trophy will be made up immediately for him to take back to California. Winners usually keep the big trophy for a year, and exchange it for the replica at the annual meeting of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association.

Second prize of $60 went to Art Midlane, who was testing a new Strip-Teaser rig and landed a 14-pound, two-ounce fish off Whiskey Point Saturday. Derek White, who used a Minnow-Teaser for a 13-pound, 10-ounce fish at Deep Cove, placed third.

About 75 coho, including eight button fish, were entered in the two-day derby. Hidden-weight winners must pick up their prizes at 1225 Government Street by Saturday, and choice of prizes will be on a first-come first-serve basis.

Hidden-weight winners: Roy Warden, 14 lb. 9 oz. Art Midlane, 14 lb. 2 oz. Derek White, 13 lb. 10 oz. Consolation prize: Alga Gamble, 12 lb. 10 oz.

Hidden-weight losers: Don Campbell, 12 lb. 10 oz. Stan Evans, 12 lb. 10 oz. Fred Ranson, 12 lb. 10 oz. Bill McColl, 12 lb. 10 oz. Bill Garner, 12 lb. 10 oz. Laurie Kerr, 12 lb. 10 oz. George Andrews, 12 lb. 10 oz. Gordon Fallow, 12 lb. 10 oz. John Merriman, 12 lb. 10 oz.

Participants who did not receive their awards will claim them by 5 p.m. Sunday Oct. 1, at 1225 Government Street.

NEW YORK (AP)—Detroit, Philadelphia and Dallas were tied for the lead in the National Football League Sunday as the league continued to head for its most interesting season.

When all the results were in, the standings showed nine teams tied with 21 records, three at 1-2 while Pittsburgh Steelers and Washington Redskins were still winless after three games.

Biggest upset came at Detroit, where 53,135 watched in amazement as San Francisco clobbered the Lions, 49-0, but the most thrilling action was at Minneapolis, Philadelphia and Washington.

Place-kickers won two games with last second three-pointers, the most sensational being a 52-yard field goal kicked by Steve Myhra which gave Baltimore Colts a 34-33 win over Minnesota's fledgling Vikings.

Myhra had kicked a field goal earlier in the fourth quarter to give the Colts a 31-30 lead but rookie Mike Mercer came up with his fourth field goal of the game late in the quarter to put Vikings ahead, 33-31, and give Myhra a chance to become a hero for the second time.

At Philadelphia, St. Louis Cardinals barely made it against the Eagles, 30-27, when Gerry Perry kicked a field goal on the last play of the game.

It made a great quarterbacking job by Sam Etcheberry stand up. The former Montreal star completed 11 of 14 passes for 148 yards, two of them for touchdowns, and called an outstanding game.

"He's a real smart quarterback," Philadelphia coach Nick Skorich said after the game. "His draw plays and sweeps broke our backs. He was their leader."

At Washington, the Redskins put up a great battle before losing to New York Giants, 24-21, as Y. A. Tittle spearheaded a New York comeback.

Tittle threw a scoring pass in the second quarter after Redskins had opened with a 21-point first quarter, then sneaked over from one yard in the last quarter to provide the winning points.

Pirie Admits Getting $2,800 to Run

LONDON (AP)—Gordon Pirie's public confession that he was paid $2,800 as an amateur runner this year Monday has sparked off another row in the world of track and field.

Pirie made his confession in an article in the People—a British Sunday newspaper—over the headlines: "Pirie confesses—I've been paid to run for months."

The 30-year-old Pirie, British Olympic runner in 1952-56-60, still holds the world record of 7:52.8 for the 3,000 meters. He turned professional in late September after making his farewell race before British fans as an amateur.

"It is only a month since Gordon denied he had broken the amateur rule," said Jack Crump, secretary of the British Amateur Athletic board. "Name the promoters who pay—if there are any."

NOT FIRST CASE—Pirie's admission that he has been paid money for running as an amateur follows the suspension of Swedish miler Dan Waern, alleged to have received more than legitimate expenses under legitimate rules.

In April this year Mike Agostini of Trinidad, former holder of the 100-yard, 220-yard and 200-metre world records, came out with a Pirie-like article suggesting that so-called amateur track stars can earn as much as $10,000 a year in Europe.

Pirie suggested in his article in the People that Sweden was the place where "amateurs" operate.

GEORGE CHUVALO was disqualified for butting in the fifth round of his heavyweight fight against Joe Ekeke of Wales, held last night in Toronto. Chuvale had been booed by fans for similar incidents in the second and third rounds.

Floyd Patterson will defend his heavyweight boxing title against Tom McNeeley in Toronto, it was reported last night. Date is tentatively set for Nov. 20.

English promoter Jack Molesworth said yesterday that he hopes to announce a heavyweight title fight between Patterson and British champion Heavy Cooper, to take place in London in May or June—presuming, of course, that Patterson first defeats McNeeley.

a committee made up of owners and player representatives yesterday recommended that two major league all-star baseball games be played next year. A move has been started to cut back to one all-star game annually.

MEZ McGARR, 35-year-old coach, was named yesterday to succeed Jimmy Dykes as manager of the Cleveland Indians.

Cookie Lavagetto and Solly Hemus, both former major league managers, have been selected to assist Casey Stengel, newly-appointed manager of the New York Mets, who make their National League debut next year.

Tommy Cook, an old-time player with the Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League, died yesterday in Port William. He was 55.

Jackie Parker has a big lead in the Western Conference scoring race. The Edmonton Eskimo quarterback has 80 points. Next is teammate Johnny Bright with 60 and then comes Willie Fleming of B.C. Lions with 48.

Ron Stewart of Ottawa Rough Riders leads the Eastern Conference with 54 points on nine touchdowns. Place-kicker Gary Schreider of the Riders and halfback George Scott of Hamilton Tiger-Cats are next with 284.

U.S. Open champion, Sunday won the Bakersfield Open golf tournament by defeating Bob Rosburg on the first hole of a sudden-death playoff. Fleck had a final-round 65 to the Rosburg, who slipped to a 70, at 278. Toronto's Al Balding won $330, ending in a 16th-place tie at 284.

Dame Judith Speaks

Dame Judith Anderson, one of the most versatile talents in the legitimate theatre appears on stage at the Royal Theatre tonight.

She will sublimate her real personality beneath portrayals of three of literature's most unsavory women — Medea, Lady Macbeth and Clytemnestra.

The famed actress' powerful personality and incisive wit are as evident offstage as on. She intersperses lively remarks about her travels, her pet peeves and her surroundings with sly digs about her acting partner, writer William Roerick.

She finds it quite funny that he can't fix plumbing but cannot fix a typewriter.

IT'S CARPINTERIA

She lives at Carpinteria in California but "...I say Santa Barbara because I got tired spelling Carpinteria," she said yesterday.

In January of 1960 Judith Anderson was invested by the Queen as Dame Commander of the Order of the British Empire.

Dame Judith firmly maintains that far more people want and appreciate the

Orchestra Makes Fine Start

By BERT BINNY

If a good start is any indication of a good season the Victoria Symphony Orchestra is in for a real dilly!

Their opening performance at the Royal Theatre on Sunday afternoon—played behind a regular rampart of colour plants which were as distracting as they were pretty—was of the attractive calibre that should inevitably generate far more widespread enthusiasm and appreciation and, consequently, bigger audiences.

The orchestra launched out into Beethoven's stately "Egmont" Overture with the air and assurance of someone meeting an old friend. They were on equally good terms with Mendelssohn's 5th ("Reformation") Symphony.

This concert introduced the new concertmaster, Arthur Polson of Vancouver, as soloist in Max Bruch's violin concerto, who displayed sincere artistry in many ways, not the least pleasing of which was his close rapport with the orchestra.

classics than is believed generally.

Of live, legitimate theatre she says: "It's alive and it'll never die. It has its little ailments but it has survived for 3,000 years."

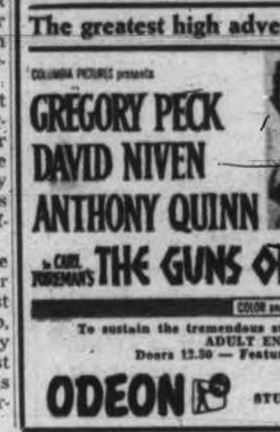

Her advice to those anxious for a theatrical career is succinct. "Just get into it!" she says. "Work at it!"

TORONTO (CP)—A 15-year-old boy went to police Sunday and said he had escaped from Bowmanville training school. Police found he had never been in the institution and charged him with public mischief.

'Flying Elephant' Better

TORONTO (CP)—A 950-pound goodwill ambassador from India, standing four feet three inches high, seemed to be settling well in Toronto yesterday after a hectic air trip that set his nerves on edge.

Officials cancelled arrangements for a large-scale airport reception because the visitor was "restless" and they feared he might eat up. Mohan, a 15-month-old elephant from the Madumalai wildlife sanctuary in Madras state, now is in Toronto's Riverdale Zoo.

Call to Arms Against Smoke Issued by Angry Taxpayer

Taxpayers should rise up and demand action about Victoria's smoke and fly ash nuisance, a city resident said yesterday.

The call to arms came from Harold Gregson, whose smoke-covered home stands at 474 Burnside East in the heart of Victoria's smoke-belt.

"The smoke-belt drifts with diminishing intensity from the industrial area across Gorge, Burnside and Douglas towards Swan Lake, with prevailing southwesterly winds.

For 10 years Mr. Gregson has complained to smoke inspectors and civic officials. Now he is turning to the general public.

With firm determination, he has written a letter to city council warning "I do not intend to let up on this matter until I see results before another year passes."

He said residents bothered by smoke and soot should form an air pollution control society similar to one in Vancouver.

People should telephone their complaints to City Hall, he added— "We have the democratic right to keep complaining until something definite is done."

This past summer was as bad as any other and "it seems to me this issue has been getting pushed around," said the angered taxpayer.

"Perhaps we should adopt a new slogan, 'Follow the Smoke to Victoria.' Residents must comply with our city bylaws. So should industry."

Launching for Victoria

Third Ferry Soon

Latest ship for the B.C. government mainland ferry service will be launched at Victoria Machinery Depot, Oct. 24 at 2 p.m.

Mrs. P. B. Sourrah, wife of the mayor, will christen the vessel City of Victoria.

A VMD spokesman said yesterday construction of the third provincial ferry is proceeding on schedule. It is due for delivery in February and when the fourth vessel, now building in Vancouver, joins the run next spring, the ferries will operate between Swartz Bay and Tsawwassen on an hourly schedule.

The freighter Lochaven docked at Ogden Point yesterday carrying the main propulsion units for the ship on the ways at VMD.

Each of the four marine diesels built in the U.K. is designed to develop more than 1,500 horsepower.

The engines will be moved through a space left in the hull plating on the port side for this purpose. When the units are in place the hull will be completed.

A work force totalling 220 men is employed on the vessel and final sections of the superstructure—the funnel and mast among them—are being prefabricated for installation before launching.

The City of Victoria is slightly larger than her sisterships Sidney and Tsawwassen, the former also built at VMD, and will carry 1,000 passengers compared with 600 on the prototype vessels.

VMD has no major shipbuilding work in prospect after the government ferry is completed in five months, said company president Harold Husband.

School Vote In Millions Set Oct. 21

Ratepayers in Greater Victoria school district will vote Oct. 21 on a bylaw for the construction of 100 new elementary classrooms and acquisition of additional school sites in the next three years.

Pending cabinet approval, expected any day, school trustees haven't disclosed the amount they are seeking to meet growth in the district from now until the end of 1964.

OVER $3,000,000
It is expected, however, the bylaw will be well over $3,000,000.

Among projects likely to be included is a new administrative centre for the school board which has been under pressure to release Craigdarroch Castle for use as a museum.

IN ELEMENTARY
Classroom construction will be concentrated in the elementary grades to comply with the government's decision to take Grade 7 out of junior high school.

City ratepayers will vote at a single polling place, Central Junior High School.

RURAL AREA

Oak Bay, in the municipal hall; Esquimalt, municipal hall and 835 Craigflower; Saanich, at Cedar Hill Cloverdale, Craigflower, Frank Hobbs, Gordon Head, Marigold, McKenzie, Tillicum and Richmond Elementary Schools and Mount View High School; rural area, View Royal Elementary School.

Polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Local Teachers Ask New Contract Talks

Teachers in Greater Victoria have notified the school board they wish to reopen contract negotiations this month.

A spokesman for Greater Victoria Teachers' Association said last night the move will precipitate discussions on all points in the present contract.

First of a series of meetings between trustees and representatives of some local teachers is expected to be held next week.

Under provincial regulations, teachers' groups throughout B.C. had until Sept. 30 to signify they wished to reopen contract talks.

Local teachers asked the board to terminate the present contract, a move which will leave both parties free to discuss any item contained in it. The alternative would have been to seek revision of specific clauses with negotiations limited to these points alone.

The parties have until the end of this month to reach agreement before conciliation begins.

City Can't Clean Inner Harbor

City council is misusing public money in paying to have the Inner Harbor cleaned of debris.

"The city solicitor (T. P. O'Grady) says we have no right to spend public monies on cleaning the Inner Harbor," city engineer James Garnett said yesterday.

He was speaking at a meeting of the transportation and harbor group of Victoria Chamber of Commerce, held to discuss the problem of flotsam and jetsam in the harbor.

"When it is a small amount like $500, well, it can be laughed off, I suppose," Mr. Garnett said. "If we are going to go for something more exacting than we have now, it is going to cost more money and then where are we?"

Mr. Garnett added the city has no right to make a charge for the use of the city-owned floats in the Inner Harbor.

The meeting of the transportation and harbor group was held specifically to answer questions submitted by council. Council submitted the questions following comment by Capt. George Veres, chairman of the Chamber's harbor group, that present methods of cleaning the harbor are "absolutely inadequate."

Following discussion, the group decided to go on record as appreciating city council's efforts to keep the harbor free of debris and to ask all Chamber members not to throw debris in the harbor.

Victoria harbormaster Capt. Ron Newell warned the debris problem in the harbor was partly caused by log booms which collect rubbish on their way down the coast and deposited the rubbish when they were broken apart.

Capt. Veres told Mr. Garnett he did not feel it was essential that a catamaran (twin-hull) boat be used to collect the rubbish.

Meeting Today

Closed Doors Cloak Carnival Fireworks

Closed doors at city hall this morning will hide the fireworks expected when Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce spokesmen meet representatives of the Greater Victoria Celebrations Association.

Overshadowing the meeting will be the Jaycees' threat to move their annual fair to Esquimalt's new sports arena if city council allows the celebrations association to use Blanshard Street, in front of Memorial Arena, for a carnival at the same time the Jaycees hold their fair.

Arbitrating the meeting will be the city's public works committee, led by Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow as chairman. Other members are Ald. Rev. J. L. W. McLean and Ald. Michael Griffin.

Mayor Percy Sourrah will also be present at the "in camera" meeting.

Representing the GVCA will be M. Frank Hunter, who recently prepared a brief which contended the Jaycees should pay several thousand dollars to the association.

Jaycees president Al Buchan and vice-president Trevor Barlow will represent the junior chamber.

The meeting will consider Mr. Hunter's brief and a reply brief submitted by the Jaycees.

Junior chamber officials have made tentative enquiries about renting the Esquimalt arena and adjacent land for the fair.

The Esquimalt facilities would give the exhibition more covered display space than is available in Memorial Arena and the curling rink.

Flag at Halfmast
In Banks' Memory

The official British Columbia flag was flown at halfmast outside the legislative buildings yesterday in memory of former lieutenant-governor C. A. Banks, who died in Vancouver Thursday. Mr. Banks was lieutenant-governor of B.C. from 1946 to 1950.

HEARD IN PASSING: Old Ed Sullivan gave addicts of the idiot box a quick look at his world tour the other night and finally showed a sequence of some Chinese youngsters in Hong Kong.

"Listen to these kids sing the 'Tale Song,'" he said.

And with that the youngsters burst forth with "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes!"

THE EARLY BIRD: In local schools where the shift system is operating it has been found that, on the average, students who attend morning sessions are getting better grades than students who attend in the afternoon.

Teachers believe this is due to the pupils being a lot fresher in the morning.

INCIDENTAL INTELLIGENCE: A recent visitor to Seattle reports the Haffbrau is a restaurant which specializes in Bavarian meals and Tyrolean atmosphere. The cook is Chinese.

ONCE BITTEN, TWICE SHY: The provincial government's war with Ottawa has reached the stage where the B.C. forest service has outlawed federal bonds for use as deposits on timber sales.

From Oct. 18 onward, only B.C. bonds will be accepted in lieu of cash for timber sale deposits.

Apparently the B.C. view is that the federal bonds are not worth the printing on the paper—and the forest service claims it lost $16,717 in the first six months of the year in proving its point.

Premier Bennett has often said his party bonds are better than money.

Now he's out to prove that Ottawa is really the home of the "funny money" boys.

Federal 'Funny Money' Logged Out by Bennett

Premier Bennett has often said his party bonds are better than money.

Now he's out to prove that Ottawa is really the home of the "funny money" boys.

When an operator bids on a timber sale he must submit a certified cheque representing 10 per cent of the total sale price. Later, if his bid is accepted, he may have his money returned if he replaces it with a bond—which collects interest while lying in the provincial treasury.

But sometimes the operator has to forfeit his deposit—and it has been costing the government plenty.

The $16,717 represents the difference between the face value of federal bonds forfeited by operators and the price the government received through their subsequent sale.

B.C. party bonds never go below par.

The new policy assures the government not only of getting every penny it is owed but also assures Premier Bennett of a steady market demand for his party bonds.

O. SAY CAN YOU SEE... A reader wants to know what that "horrible snake piece of hunting" is which flies in the place of the Union Jack at B.C. schools.

That's our provincial flag, ma'am.

She describes the flag (BSB): "On this bunting the Union Jack is distorted above a mass of waving lines, suggesting a cheap candy bar or house-hold cleanser."

And she adds: "As a voter I have never been asked if I wished this queer conglomerate to replace the flags of historic tradition. As a school taxpayer on several holdings I strongly, body, protest."

Williston Decides

Battle of Booms Apparently Lost View Royal Told

View Royal ratepayers appear to have lost their battle to keep log booms out of Upper Esquimalt Harbor, a spokesman said last night.

Ken Fraser said following a meeting with Lands and Forests Minister Williston, which lasted nearly two hours, he "inferred" the minister had decided in favor of logging interests.

The ratepayers' spokesman said, however, his group received the assurance that log booms would not be permitted at the head of Esquimalt harbor.

"If this turns out to be the final decision," Mr. Fraser said, "it will be a shattering blow to all the residents of this area who can't understand why the government would want to allow log booms in front of their property for the next five years."

Of the minister's assurance that log booms would not be permitted at the head of the harbor, Mr. Fraser said: "It's like giving someone permission to dump garbage on your front lawn, then telling you there'll only be garbage on one corner of the lawn."

Mr. Fraser said the executive would call a meeting in the next few days to report to the membership and decide what further action should be taken.

Esquimalt Gets Jump in Works

Unitarians Support Alderman

A city alderman's campaign to have questions about religion and racial origin removed from city hall employment application forms has won support from the Unitarian Fellowship of Victoria.

A motion by Ald. Griffin, seconded by Ald. A. W. Toone, asking that the questions be removed from the forms, was recently tabled. It will be discussed further at a meeting of city council Thursday.

Things Going Well In Navy's Exercise

A full-scale test of Pacific Command emergency defence plans which began with recall of all Esquimalt personnel from shore leave Saturday is "developing satisfactorily," the navy said yesterday.

Rear Admiral E. W. Finch-Noyes said lessons learned in previous exercises have been applied to current tests.

The result has been an "important improvement" in the command's emergency defence organization, the admiral said.

The three-day exercise, scheduled to end today, involved bringing up all Esquimalt-based ships to full war-time complement and placing the naval establishment on stepped-up security alert.

Warships sailed to designated locations and will continue in a larger joint U.S.-Canadian anti-submarine warfare exercise lasting two weeks.

Two squadrons of RCN destroyer escorts and frigates as well as its submarine and RCAF patrol bombers from Comox will take part in the big exercise. A total of 10,000 men and 150 ships, submarines and planes will participate in an area stretching from California to Alaska.

Don't panic about civil defence, Reeve A. C. Wartels said last night.

MORE REALISTIC
"Civil defence policies now are much more realistic than they used to be when they advocated every Tom, Dick and Harry chase out of the municipality," he said.

"I feel there is no panic about as we hear about in other places," he told council. He said civil defence proposals should be studied "in a quiet manner but without being apathetic."

Reeve Wartels, an ex-naval officer, said after the council meeting he believes in fallout shelters but thinks there would be plenty of time to stock them if a nuclear war started.

He would be "in a jam" if missiles and bombs rained down without warning. That is what his bomb shelter is used for—a jam cellar.

There would be indications and tightening of tensions before an all-out war, said Mr. Wartels.

Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I've been married for 15 years to a man who has no bad habits and is a good father. The problem is I can't get a dollar out of him.

We own a four-family flat. Six years ago when our janitor and maintenance man quit I took over "temporarily." Well, I'm still at it with no relief in sight. I'm a plumber's daughter so I know how to fix everything in that line. I can even fix the air-conditioners, and do a little carpenter work. I've papered and painted, varnished and laid linoleum when tenants have moved out so the flats would be rentable.

We have a vegetable garden in back and every year I put up 200 quarts of beets, tomatoes, carrots, dill pickles and asparagus. I do all this in addition to taking care of my own family which numbers six. When I ask my husband for a few dollars to get a permanent wave or a new pair of shoes he says "Wait till I die. You'll get everything." What can I do? —GETTING TIRED.

Dear Getting: Take on one more job—collect the rent. At the rate you're going, Lady, you'll die—and he'll get everything.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a woman 30 years of age and have no major problems. I'd be very grateful if you'd print this letter as a means of educating some of the bores in this world.

I happen to have a few rather large warts on my face. My doctor has told me that they are not dangerous from a health standpoint, so I just forget they are there—until some ignoramus makes a vulgar remark. Will you please tell people that it is in the worst possible taste to make comments of this type? Thank you. —G.R.

Dear G.R.: It's your face—and you can grow anything on it you like, but why in the world would an intelligent woman choose to go through life with warts on her face when a dermatologist can remove them in his office during her lunch hour? Of course it's terribly rude to comment on the warts, but you could solve the problem very easily, and at the same time improve your appearance. My earnest hope is that you will.

Dear Ann Landers: I used to think well of your advice but no more. In your column you always advise people to make friends through clubs, organizations and above all church groups.

My daughter Hester was an avid fan. She took your advice and joined a church group and that's where she met this man. She devoted herself to him completely for 18 months. Then his wife showed up and threatened Hester with an alienation of affection suit. He had three children and a police record.

We were stunned. He seemed so respectable and decent. From now on you'd better think twice before you advise nice girls to meet men through church groups. A church offers an ideal front for scoundrels to hide behind. —STUNNED MOTHER

Dear Mother: Churches have rats, too, but that doesn't mean your daughter ought to go out with them.

No safeguard can match common sense and judgment. A girl who could go out with a man for 18 months and not pick up a single clue to his double life must be less than bright.

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Well-Liked," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

HOW TO PUT A STOP TO EARLY-AGING SIGNS

Even the most skillful make-up can't hide flaky cheeks, crow's feet, little lines. But once you realize that these early-aging signs are caused by lack of natural moisture within the skin, you can take effective action! Use POND'S DRY SKIN CREAM. This famous cream contains Allantoin—a remarkable substance that starts to repair dry skin in just 10 minutes! Allantoin gently floats off the lifeless surface cells... opens the way for Pond's rich moisturized lanolin to penetrate deep-down into parched tissues. Almost overnight, your complexion becomes softer, smoother, younger-looking! Get POND'S DRY SKIN CREAM—use it regularly. In jar or tube, wherever cosmetics are sold.

If You Sew, See Shows Today

Co-ordinated ensembles made of co-ordinated fabrics made the highlight of a fashion show yesterday afternoon at the Hudson's Bay Company's Douglas Room when Patricia Gwyer, McCall's Pattern Company stylist presented fashions made up from this season's favorite patterns.

Fabrics featured peacock blues and greens, autumn-toned oranges and golds, and a host of lavender and magenta combinations.

Modelling in the show, which was commented by Mrs. Gwyer, were Florence Walther, Lydia Mawson and Terry French.

One of Florence Walther's most stunning outfits was of pale blue knitted fabric with slim suit skirt and "wedding band" collar. She wore accessories in tone. Lydia Mawson's orange ensemble brought admiring gasps from the audience. Over an "ensemble fabric" dress of oranges and golds, she wore a stunning, collarless coat of toned orange, and a matching hat. A suit of emerald green and rich blue checked tweed was worn by Terry French at the start of the showing. Under the neatly-tailored suit jacket was an emerald overblouse of velvet, highlighted with a sparkly blue stone pin, right at the neckline. She wore green accessories.

The fashions will be presented again today at 10:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. in the Douglas Room. Admission is free.

Two brothers were well and at work yesterday, in spite of having spent a frigid half-hour Sunday in the waters of Cadboro Bay.

Zam-Buk

Harvey Mayzes, 37, of 900 Admirals, and his brother Kenneth, 32, of 780 Cameo, were rescued 30 minutes after their 10-foot plywood outboard was swamped by a wave offshore from Queen Alexandra Solarium.

POWER BOAT
Rescuers were Arthur Lucie-Smith, 4070 Haro, who put out in a power boat and brought Kenneth to shore, and Duncan Smith, 4241 Gordon Head, who went out in a rowboat and rescued Harvey.

The brothers had put Kenneth's boat in the water at Ten Mile Point and were out for some fishing, but rough water led them to turn back. It was then that their boat was capsized.

The two were grateful that their cries for help, as they clung to their overturned boat, were heard on shore.

"We couldn't have held out much longer in that cold water," they agreed.

A third boat towed the overturned craft to shore but all of the brothers' fishing gear was lost.

"It's a small price to pay," said Harvey.

Prominent Musician F. C. King Dies at 87

Frederic Charles King, 87, founder of two city choirs and leader in Victoria musical circles for 45 years, died Sunday in Royal Jubilee Hospital.

A native of Ashford, Kent, England, Mr. King lived for 18 years in Seattle before coming to Victoria 45 years ago.

His home was at 946 Cowichan.

PIANO SALESMAN

He was for 35 years a piano salesman for the former firm of Fletcher Brothers and spent much time promoting choral music in Victoria.

He founded the original Meistrange, male voice choir in the 30s, and the former Schubert Club, a female voice choir which he conducted for 30 years.

In addition, he conducted Congregational and Metropolitan Church choirs and the Victoria Male Choir, since amalgamated with the Arion Choir.

SURVIVORS

Survivors include two sons, Laurence, Victoria, and Rev. Gordon L. King, Moses Lake, Wash.; one daughter, Ada King of Vancouver, and a sister, Mrs. Hulet Wells, Seattle.

Rev. A. K. McMinn will conduct funeral services Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. at McCall's funeral home. Burial will be at Royal Oak.

Woman Injured In City Car Fall

Only one of five persons injured in Victoria traffic accident Sunday was still in hospital yesterday.

Mrs. Ann Salvason, 64, of Vancouver, suffered arm, leg and back injuries Sunday at 12:30 p.m. at Hollywood and Beechwood.

A car driven by Isabel Graham, Comox, was turning the corner when the right door opened and Mrs. Salvason, a passenger, fell to the pavement.

She is in good condition at St. Joseph's Hospital.

THREE HURT

Victims of a chain-reaction accident Sunday at 4:45 p.m. on Burnside near Jutland were Mrs. Frances Mills, 37, of 1379 Vista Heights, and her daughters Coleen, 7, and Judith, 5.

All three were given emergency treatment for bumped foreheads at St. Joseph's Hospital, and allowed to go home.

Police said a car driven by Donald Mills, the husband, collided with the rear of one driven by Walter Newcombe, 2151 Haultain, which in turn had hit the rear of a car driven by James Lennox, 3034 Donald, which had hit the rear of a fourth car driven by Margaret Clarke, 3153 Qu'Appelle.

SUDDEN STOP

The chain was started, police said, when an unidentified taxi cab made a sudden stop to avoid hitting children chasing a ball on the street.

An unidentified passenger in one of the cars also suffered minor injuries, but refused medical attention.

Coat Hanger Best Tool In Burglary

EDMONTON (UPI) — Safe-crackers used a wire coat hanger and a pair of scissors to loot $8,503 from a liquor store safe.

The thieves used the rudimentary burglar tools after an acetylene cutting torch failed to open the inner door of the safe.

Police said the thieves broke into the store by chopping through the roof and climbing down a rope. They then blew the spindle off the safe with nitro-glycerine, but an attempt to open the inner door with the cutting torch failed.

Insurance Fund Bonds Switched

OTTAWA (CP) — In a move to ease pressures on the market for government bonds, Finance Minister Fleming announced yesterday the federal treasury has taken over the bond holdings of the unemployment insurance fund.

The measure, forecast in Mr. Fleming's June budget speech, means that the insurance fund will henceforth hold its investments in non-marketable bonds that can be cashed only with the government.

Rusk Reports To Kennedy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy conferred for an hour with Secretary of State Dean Rusk on possible Berlin crisis negotiations after returning from a brief New York R.I. vacation.

Rusk reported on his New York conferences with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. The president is expected to meet with Gromyko later this week.

Winning Contract

By HOWARD SCHENKEN and RICHARD L. FREY

Marshall Miles, a young attorney from San Bernardino, Calif., met the bridge world again by winning both of the big titles at this year's Summer Nationals.

This week, we've invited the new holder of the Life Masters' Pair and the Masters' Knockout Teams Championships to take over the column and describe some of the outstanding hands from these two events.

It sometimes happens that a beginner or a very fine player would make the same intermediate skill would never think of it. With this, cover the East-West hands and decide how you would play this four-heart contract. Note South's jump to four hearts, the proper bid, of course, since a three-heart response to North's double would show a weak hand with not much more than some distribution that prompted South to take out the double.

To get you off to a good start, we'll have you play the diamond ten, which holds the trick. Now what would you do?

My partner in the Masters' Pairs, Phil Feldman, led the heart queen at trick two. This sort of play has been called a "Chinese finesse" because declarer is lacking the jack and ten. The normal play is to lead low to the ace and back toward the queen. However, Phil figured that West would be short in hearts. His three club bid presumably showed six or seven, and the opening lead was apparently from three or four diamonds to the jack. Of course West did not have to be void of hearts, but if he held a singleton, Phil hoped it would be the jack or ten (two chances) rather than the king.

East covered the heart queen, declarer took the ace and cashed the diamond ace. Then he led a club. West took the ace and returned a spade. Again Phil guessed correctly and hopped up with the ace; then discarded two spade losers on the high diamonds. Now a spade was ruffed, followed by a club to the king, a spade ruff and a ruff of declarer's last club with dummy's heart seven.

At this point it made no difference what East did; all he could get was two trump tricks in addition to his partner's club ace.

Red China:

'We Want Peace With All'

PEKING (Reuters)—Communist China celebrated its 12th anniversary with a giant parade Sunday and a declaration by Premier Chou En-lai that it wants to live in peace with all nations, including the United States.

But Chou, speaking at a separate banquet Saturday night, added:

"The U.S. government however, has up to now refused to give up its policy of hostility to China."

Chou told the 3,000 guests that the U.S. is "again engineering plots" to keep Communist China out of the United Nations.

TWO MONTHS

"The legitimate rights of the people's republic of China must be restored to it," Chou said, and the Nationalist Chinese "must be driven out of the United Nations."

Chou backed Cuba's "just struggle against U.S. imperialism" and said Communist China would stand "unshakably" by Asian and Latin American countries in their fight against "old and new" colonialism.

In Sunday's climax of the celebration, some 500,000 people paraded through the vast Tien An Men heavenly peace square here.

Wagner Order

NEW YORK (AP)—A hand of furniture movers has dismantled and carted away the remnants of a 150-year-old political institution—Tammany Hall.

Mayor Robert Wagner—principal architect of a primary election onslaught which smashed Tammany leadership—ordered the club out of existence.

From now on, Wagner said, the organization shall be known by its official title—The New York County Democratic State Committee.

De Sapio Loss

NEW YORK (AP)—The name Tammany first emerged before the revolutionary war as a counter-move against Americans backing the movement native in character and democratic in principle and action.

For more than three decades Tammany represented middle class opposition to the power of the aristocratic party. It lost its national character and became ultimately identified with New York politics.

De Sapio, who led Tammany Hall for 12 years, staked his position on a fight against Wagner in the recent primary election. Wagner soundly defeated De Sapio's candidate.

Harris 'Always Wrong'

Berlin Raids Called Failure

LONDON (CP)—Britishers were reflecting today on official judgments that while the RAF won the Battle of Britain in the Second World War, it lost the Battle of Berlin.

Publication of the official history of Bomber Command's night attacks on Germany during 1943-44 implies that never before did so many do so much to achieve so little.

The historians, Sir Charles Webster and Noble Frankland, conclude that the indiscriminate area bombing of German cities, costing more than 35,000 lives in aircrew, was a costly failure.

They said the attacks failed in their two main objectives: in the German people and the effect on the enemy's war production was remarkably small.

In part the history is an indictment of Bomber Command's chief, Sir Arthur Bomber Harris, who despite strong advice that the bombers could be used more effectively against strategic targets such as oil, held firm to his conviction that mass bombing would destroy Germany's home front.

The picture the historians paint of Harris is of a man who commanded the awe, affection and absolute loyalty of his men but who, like Field Marshal Earl Haig in the First World War, was always wrong strategically and always prevailed.

The history brings out the astonishing fact that three of the war's leading powers, Britain, Germany and Japan, were virtually without oil.

From the earliest days of the war, Britain's economic advisers insisted that bombing power should be used with absolute priority against German oil refineries and stock piles. German wartime leaders later confirmed that a sustained attack on oil installations was what they most feared.

Daylight precision bombing by the United States Air Force seriously crippled Nazi war production. But Harris, say the historians, remained convinced that his 1,000-strong force of four-engined Lancasters was an imprecise instrument that could be used only at night against large targets. Spectacular results were sometimes achieved. A week-long incendiary attack on Hamburg resulted in a fire storm that killed 33,000 civilians. A similar attack on Dresden a year later produced moral quails among Britain's leaders, including Prime Minister Churchill.

The book makes clear that Britain was not following a policy of destruction for its own sake. Harris and his top men genuinely believed that the best way to destroy the German war machine was to drive the workers from their homes.

the difference between a job... and a career

In a job, a man puts in his eight hours a day and that's that. But to embark on a career, a man must plan to put his whole life into it. Dentistry is a career because the demands on a man are beyond the bounds of a mere job. He must devote himself to it—for the rest of his life. And, if he believes in his ability, has the skill, and the desire to help his fellow man, he can.

Dentistry is not ill demands, however. In return comes a deep satisfaction in caring for and protecting members of the community, a well-earned income, and recognition from the community.

If you feel that dentistry is the career to which you wish to devote yourself—your time and energy—we invite you to write for our informative pamphlet, Dentistry As A Career. There is a challenge to be met. Perhaps you are one of the few able to meet it.

NATO Lagging In Response To Arms Plan

PARIS (AP)—The response of European members of NATO to the U.S. effort to increase the military capability of the Western defence system by 20 per cent appears to be spotty.

Most of the 14 military members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization are meeting the request for more firepower on the defence lines. But some countries, less than half a dozen, are confronted by financial difficulties or internal political situations which make any additional buildup now difficult or impossible.

SUPREME EFFORT

The goal for attaining the 20-per-cent increase is set for 1962 or 1963. As it now stands, the United States would absorb up to about eight per cent of the overall expansion.

The aim in the immediate future is to make the 21 NATO-committed divisions actually battle-ready by building up to full strength and providing the necessary equipment. This is aside from the longer range goal of a total of about 30 divisions.

IMMEDIATE AIM

The United States is making a supreme effort to encourage the other NATO members to help with the expansion program. A series of high level meetings among U.S. officials here has just concluded.

Tories Won't Tamper With Divorce Laws

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Justice Minister Fulton said Monday that Quebec and Newfoundland do not want divorce courts and the people of Canada do not seem to want broader grounds for divorce.

"Public opinion is so divided on what should be done that until there is some crystallization of opinion, it would be unwise for the government to tamper with the existing situation."

Mr. Fulton said: "There seems to be no compelling reason to enlarge the grounds for divorce at present."

Harris Exhibit Impressive

An exhibition of the work of Lauren Harris is always new. We have been waiting for this one for a considerable time, as it marks a stage of change, an exploration, a search for the absolute.

As "Dean of Canadian painting," as he has so often been called, his influence throughout Canada has been a powerful one.

We all know the part he played in creating the Group of Seven while he lived in Toronto.

So when he decided to make his permanent home in Vancouver, he gave western Canadian painting a solid start on the way to the position it now holds.

The rocky panoramas of the Great Lakes inspired his finest work. The bold simplification of the forms of the landscape with their stark, rocky headlands, burn-out tree trunks and mystical light, fitted into the mould of his own thought.

His Arctic canvases, with their clear but fragile light pervading everything, were a memorable achievement.

That was 30 years ago. Today he concentrates upon abstract compositions, statements of ideas rather than images.

To some, they may have a strong appeal but to many they lack the immensity of space conveyed by his earlier canvases.

Impressive in size, sound in balance and pleasing in rhythm, they are technical achievements in the field of design.

Personally, I derive the greatest pleasure from the three canvases on the same theme, "Mountain Experience" numbers one, two and three, in which one seems to come into closer contact with the artist.

In them he has sustained some of the mystical quality of his earlier work.

Always a lover of the mountains, Mr. Harris was perhaps the first Canadian artist to succeed in putting on canvas their "weight," their existence in space, their ever-changing moods.

Economy and Health

Socred Platform Steered to Town By New Skipper

Social Credit's national platform for the next federal election was steered into town last night, fresh from a nation-wide shakedown cruise with a new party leader at the helm.

The platform, which was displayed to about 200 people at a public meeting in the Ingham Hotel, has several refinements not evident in earlier models and Socred chief Robert N. Thompson undertook to show them off to advantage.

Emphasis in the new platform, said he, is on economy and a complete new health plan.

"Consider this new health plan," said Mr. Thompson.

'Scandal and Shame'

Referring to the physical condition of the nation's teenagers as a "scandal and a shame," he pledged federal health grants in aid of removing the flab from the country's youth.

"After all," he added, "we intend to give 18-year-olds the vote."

Compared with the condition of the national body politic, however, Mr. Thompson considered the physical health problem little more than a minor twinge.

'Stagger Under Debt'

Training his sights on the nation's economy, Mr. Thompson let fly at a national government which "lets the people stagger under a mountain of debt, then turns around and mortgages the lives of our children."

The answer? "Simple," says Mr. Thompson. "Just give the government authority to issue credit the way it issues currency."

He left his listeners with these miscellaneous items to consider:

"The first thing we must cure is the unnecessary cancer of our national debt, the creeping paralysis of our economy, the terrible affliction of surplus and want."

The speaker cautioned his listeners against expectations of a "heaven on earth" when Social Credit takes the reins.

"No indeed, but at least you will live with the standards God wants you to have."

The audience applauded this.

"We call for rebirth of patriotism. You know what happens in your heart when the flags go up and the drums beat!"

"Last year the population rose 3 per cent and the gross national product rose only 1 per cent. We are going backwards."

"Social Credit is the only party which can guarantee its promises."

"There are so many people in the world that, if they all formed a line, they would stretch around the earth 20 times."

Red Cross Warns Forces in Congo

ELIZABETHVILLE (AP)—International Red Cross representatives have told United Nations and Katangan authorities that both sides are technically violating the Geneva Convention on treatment of prisoners, an authoritative source reported Monday.

The source, however, emphasized that physical treatment of the prisoners on both sides is good and that the condition of 190 Irish and other UN prisoners held by the Katangans at Jadotville could not be much better.

The source said the UN is in breach of the convention in keeping 45 Katangan captives at Elizabethville airport, one of the most heavily-defended UN positions.

Constant education of the garrison's soldiers has been credited for the fact no fire losses have occurred during the past four years.

New Town For 2,500 In Churchill

WINNIPEG (CP)—An interim report dealing with proposals to move the townsite of the Hudson Bay port of Churchill, Man., has been completed. Industry and Commerce Minister Gurney Evans said Monday. Plans for moving the townsite and its 2,500 residents have been studied since a survey disclosed services were inadequate and could not be brought up to standard on the existing townsite.

Dag's Home Bequeathed To World

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Dag Hammarskjöld left his summer home on the windswept moorlands of south Sweden to the world.

The one-storey farm house near the small town of Simrishamn on the shore of the Baltic was bequeathed to the Swedish Tourist Association on the condition it be made available for conferences suggested by the United Nations or others in the UN spirit.

Hammarskjöld also provided that the six-room house be opened for two months each summer to members of the Swedish Royal Academy who wish to vacation there.

Should Be Dead

New Drug Reversed Children's Cancer

CHICAGO (AP)—A medical researcher said Monday three children afflicted with terminal cancer—and given but a few weeks to live—were injected with a new synthetic drug and are still alive months later.

Dr. Louis Goodman told a session of the 47th annual American College of Surgeons convention all three youngsters "should have been dead in three weeks."

Goodman, of Johns Hopkins University medical school in Baltimore, Md., outlined a case of cancer in a two-year-old child that had spread from the lower spine to the liver and lungs.

Goodman said radioactive cobalt treatments followed by 11 injections of the drug, called S-46, reduced the main tumor in five months to a point where it could be removed surgically.

Two months after the injections, Goodman said, the cancer had cleared from the liver and the liver was reduced to

Navy Firemen To Teach Troops Here

Navy firemen will give 30-minute demonstrations in the use of firefighting equipment to soldiers at Work Point Barracks starting Oct. 8.

Demonstrations are part of the National Fire Prevention Week campaign.

The army's national survival program includes rescue work from fire-razed areas and forest firefighting.

Co-operation Need in Space

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Two of the world's foremost space leaders, a Russian and an American, called yesterday for international co-operation in science to promote friendship among nations.

Leonid I. Sedov, president of the International Astronautical Federation said that in the space era "co-operation on a world scale is greatly needed."

Dr. Hugh L. Dryden, deputy director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said co-operation "on a global scale" in the exploration of space can "contribute to friendship and understanding among nations."

Both addressed the opening session of the IAF's 12th International Astronautical Congress. Several hundred astronautical scientists from all parts of the world were in the audience.

Noting that Wednesday will be the fourth anniversary of the launching of the world's first artificial satellite, Russia's Sputnik I, Sedov said space exploration had stimulated

Huge Fall Reported In B.C. Polio Cases

Four cases of polio have been reported in British Columbia this year, compared with 148 cases with nine deaths in the same period last year. Dr. G. F. Amyot, deputy health minister, announced the figures yesterday. He warned that many persons should obtain free "booster" shots of Halk vaccine.

Market Opinion:

Canada's Hopes Go With Mother Country

OTTAWA (UPI)—Agriculture Minister Hamilton last night said Britain's success or failure to protect Commonwealth interests in its negotiations with the European Common Market would have "lasting effects not only on the Commonwealth but on the world as a whole."

Hamilton stressed the importance of Britain attempting to liberalize the terms under which it would enter the Common Market to protect Canada's interests.

Referring to Canadian government declarations on the issue, Hamilton said:

"We feel that we have done our utmost to give Britain the arguments that will help her try to shift this regional grouping from a restrictive trading area into one which not only gives its own people more efficiency in production but also trades more freely with the rest of the world."

"Our hopes go with the mother country in these negotiations, knowing full well

We can encourage the injured roots to put forth new root hairs and we can put down the loss of moisture from the foliage. For the first, we have root-forming hormone chemicals, available in Dixon's® Vitamin B1 Transplantone and the soluble fertilizer called Green Cross Lawn Green, which is heavily fortified with root-forming hormones. For the second, we have Wiltruf, a plastic spray which seals the leaves against moisture loss, or we can spray the foliage several times a day with a fine mist of plain water.

But, Mr. Hoover, you ask me to expect and demand efficient law enforcement. Of whom? If you're afraid to tackle the crime syndicate do you think my local police office supported by me, the citizen, can do it? Nowhere in the world crime more profitable because of organized than least bothered by law enforcement in the United States and you have been the top cop in the U.S. for 36 years. Crime has flourished under you as it has never before flourished in the history of the world.

How do you explain that?

Legal Switch Sought

WINNIPEG (CP) — The Manitoba government has asked the federal government to re-enact a piece of Manitoba legislation which has been declared ultra vires of the province by the courts.

The legislation is the Orderly Payments of Debts Act which establishes a means for debtors who are insolvent to pay off their creditors.

County Court Judge Donald Ross ruled the law invades the federal government's exclusive jurisdiction over bankruptcy and insolvency.

Only One More Crest Left And He's Compleat Angler

Bob Wright of 2190 Neil has topped another Prince Crest in the Daily Colonist King Fisherman contest and has only one more to go — to be the first person to win the new Compleat Angler trophy for the first winner of all six crests.

He went into the open Pacific off San Juan Bay Sunday to catch an 18-12 pound coho, which almost ensures him of a coho crest for October. Specially-cut herring strip, trooled in a Rhys-Davies Minnow-Tearer, did the trick.

FOUR QUALIFY

All of the five crest-winning fish he has caught have been big fish in their class, and four of them qualify for Field and Stream honor awards — his 39-2 spring, 51-4 tye, 5-0 bass and 18-12 coho. His 7-13 steelhead was under the 10-pound Field and Stream requirement.

Last year, before trout were divided into lake trout and river trout categories, Mr. Wright became the first person to win all five Prince crests.

If he wins his lake trout crest—and he has five non-working days in which to do it—he will be the undisputed King Fisherman of Vancouver Island. Contest ends Oct. 15.

For a starter, he plans to fish Prospect Lake for trout with Rene and Paula Nielsen, who have captured several crest winners from that lake. If he gets a trout there, Mr. Wright plans to seek a bigger trout elsewhere to make his win certain.

SNAPPED IN NET

Lady Luck was smiling on him Sunday when he landed his big coho. His 10-pound-test leader snapped in the net.

He was off Botanical Beach when a double-header hit their lines. Partner Bob Campbell lost his six or seven-pound coho but Mr. Wright success-

Prepare for War Now World's Police Urged

MONTREAL (UPI)—The mounting crime wave, emergency measures in the event of a nuclear war, co-ordination of efforts between police forces of the world and the problem of raising the status of the police officer in the eyes of the public.

These themes dominated the 68th annual conference of the International Association of Chiefs of Police which opened Monday.

Some 2,000 delegates from 26 countries heard association president Robert Murray, Washington, D.C., chief of police, call for an "in-depth" study of overall police problems.

They heard a warning from the conference host, Montreal's retiring police director, Albert Langlois, that this may be their "last chance" to discuss protective measures "in the event of a nuclear war."

And chief commissioner C. W. Harverson of the RCMP, delivering the keynote address, expressed concern that "crime was continuing at a disturbing and alarming rate," despite the best efforts of police.

Murray said research into crime was sporadic and limited to emergency programs and called on governments and trust foundations to invest greater amounts to crime research and to seeking answers to the problems of police administration and operations.

SOMBRE NOTE

Langlois introduced a sombre note when he told delegates: "We must look ahead to the possibility of a terrible catastrophe" which will pose altogether new problems for law enforcement officers.

Quoting statistics, Harverson deplored the increasing incidence of attacks on police officers and said the question of public confidence in the police was "the most important single question facing law enforcement officers today."

MUST BE ERASED

He said the increasing crime rate was "an ugly blot which must be erased."

Common Market Here?

HALIFAX (CP)—A North American common market developed slowly over a period of some 50 years was suggested Monday by Joseph Jeffery, president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, to the chamber's annual meeting.

Mr. Jeffery, who said he was speaking for himself and "some friends who have had occasion to discuss the subject," and not on behalf of the chamber, declared Canada is in for a trade war "the like of which we have not seen in our lifetime."

Stating it is likely Britain will enter the European Common Market, he urged that Canada take early and active steps to counter the consequences.

"The Canadian economy," he said, "is gradually being hemmed in from three sides—the Far East, the U.S. and Europe."

ACTIVE STEPS

Mr. Jeffery, chairman of London Life Insurance Co., London, Ont., said an economic union would not mean, nor need to mean, a political union. He added:

"We as an independent sovereign nation would have markets thrown open to us that could lead us to heights of prosperity hitherto undreamed of."

D. L. Morrell, chamber general manager, said it looks as if business in 1961 will be at its best in the final quarter of the year.

What every wife should know about her husband!

Like most married women you probably hesitate to talk to your husband about his life insurance. You dread thinking of existing without him. Yet, much as you hate to think of it, you probably know a number of young widows who have a real problem maintaining a home and bringing up their children.

Perhaps he is aware of your reluctance to talk about life insurance—and hesitates to bring up the subject.

You owe it to yourself and to your children to discuss with your husband what his present life insurance programme would provide in income to raise your family. Further, what his permanent personal policies would be worth in case of emergencies.

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP) — Walter McLean, 27, son of a former moderator of the Presbyterian Church of Canada, was elected president of the 85,000-member National Federation of Canadian University Students Monday night.

Mr. McLean, former president of the University of Toronto Students Administration Council and a divinity graduate of the university, is the son of Rev. J. L. W. McLean of Victoria.

At one point during the morning, students left school without the teachers' consent, when Roman Catholics used the school as an enrolment station for a separate Roman Catholic school.

Seventy children were absent from Gilchrist School out of an enrolment of 227 and one-third were absent from the high school. Most were Protestants.

NORTHERN CENTRE

Uranium City, one-time a uranium-producing boom city, is 525 miles northwest of Saskatoon in the northwestern corner of Saskatchewan and 450 miles northeast of Edmonton.

The municipal council decided last week that Shannon School, closed for a year because of a reduction in the number of families in the town, would be reopened for the education of Roman Catholic children.

FIVE TEACHERS

Five teachers from the existing public and high schools agreed to teach grades one to eight at the separate school. At least one teacher refused.

Large-scale absenteeism resulted when Gilchrist School and the high school—both public institutions—were used as enrolment centre for registration of Roman Catholic students for the new Shannon separate school.

'SEGREGATED'

One Protestant mother, who kept her children home, said: "I do not want to see my children exposed to segregation in this way."

First Case

Boy Pleads Guilty
To Murder Attempt

Within minutes after an Assize Court jury ruled him fit to stand trial, a 16-year-old Saanich boy pleaded guilty to attempted non-capital murder, yesterday in Victoria courthouse.

Peter Tschirach of Saanich was remanded by Mr. Justice T. W. Brown to Oct. 10 for a probation report and sentence.

The offence—it marked the first use in a Victoria court of the new term "non-capital murder"—occurred last Jan. 12, when a girl the same age as the accused was stabbed and struck over the head.

While she recovered in hospital, the boy was for a time committed to Escondido by order of the attorney-general. He was later released and committed for trial after a preliminary hearing.

First jury of the assizes, which included three women members and nine men, heard testimony by a psychiatrist and evidence from others on the question of the boy's fitness to stand trial and instruct counsel.

Their ruling that he was fit came after about five minutes' deliberation.

Earlier yesterday a charge of conspiracy to commit perjury, laid against Beryl Ann Fisher of Victoria, was removed from the assize list following an order for a stay of proceedings from the attorney-general's department.

Jury members were excused at noon yesterday until 11 a.m. Thursday, when the next trial—a charge of libel against Victorian Douglas Rivette—will begin.

Get-Together
On Power Urged

VANCOUVER (CP) — Liberal leader Lester Pearson said here Monday Ottawa and Victoria should get together to work out a common basis on which to ask for renegotiation with the United States of the International Columbia River Treaty.

Mr. Pearson told a Canadian Club meeting the aim of such renegotiations would be to make the treaty more acceptable to Canada while remaining "fair to the United States."

He suggested changes in treaty might include easing of a rigid construction schedule for Canada of three major storage dams. The U.S. now is free to build the Libby Dam at its own time, but Canada is committed to a rigid schedule.

Families Seek 'Survival' Guns

The dealer said buyers said they wanted to defend their families from anyone trying to enter their fallout shelters.

Sandys 'Clears Air'

ACCRA (Reuters) — Commonwealth Relations Secretary Duncan Sandys and Ghana's President Kwame Nkrumah talked for two hours Monday in an effort to "clear the air" between Britain and Ghana before a royal visit by Queen Elizabeth next month.

They will meet again today.

POOR RELATIONS

There have been widespread reports in both the British and Ghanaian press about deteriorating relations between Britain and its former West African territory.

Some British press reports claim Nkrumah wants to get the royal visit cancelled, fearing that a tremendous reception the Queen is expected to receive here will point up his own weakening prestige.

Mountie Posed As 'Newsman'

HAROLD WINCH

VANCOUVER (CP) — CCF MP Harold Winch has demanded investigation of an incident in Vernon, B.C., last Friday in which an RCMP officer is said to have posed as a member of the press to get pictures of people at a meeting attended by Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

He said Justice Minister Fulton has been asked to look into the incident and sent a protest to the prime minister.

Mr. Winch said an article in the Vernon News stated that a man wearing a large press badge took a picture and asked questions of members of the B.C. Federation of Unemployed, who handed out leaflets at the arena where Mr. Diefenbaker spoke at a public meeting.

He added that a Vernon newspaperman recognized the "press" man as an RCMP officer from nearby Kelowna.

'Bomber' Harris Blasts Historians

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain's wartime air chiefs hit back Monday in a bitter controversy over a new official history of the bombing offensive against Nazi Germany.

The history claims the aerial campaign was a "costly failure" for three-quarters of the Second World War.

Sir Arthur (Bomber) Harris, marshal of the Royal Air Force and wartime chief of the Bomber Command, joined with Air Vice-Marshal Donald Bennett in protesting against alleged inaccuracies and omissions in the history entitled The Strategic Air Offensive Against Germany, 1939-1945.

Harris emerged from his self-imposed obscurity at his

Thames-side home to condemn the history as "biased from cover to cover."

He told reporters the night bombing attacks by the RAF that killed more than 1,000,000 Germans contributed decisively to the allied victory.

Bennett, who commanded the famed RAF Pathfinder force, said "this cold, critical and inaccurate history, is to say the least, an astonishing act of ingratitude."

The 1,700-page, four-volume history was compiled by the late Sir Charles Webster, director of the Imperial War Museum and a former member of the Bomber Command.

Bomber Command started "terror raids" on cities because it was incapable of hitting anything smaller.

Despite the devastation of many residential areas, the authors said, the will of the German people was not even significantly impaired by the attacks and the effect on German war production was remarkably small.

Overthrow Nasser Syria Tells Egypt

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Damascus radio in newly independent Syria broadcast an appeal last night to Egyptians to revolt against the rule of President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The broadcast, heard here, said the appeal was signed by 17 politicians "working in the national and nationalist fields" in Syria. (See stories page 8.)

... arrested

HANDS EXTENDED
The Arab people in Syria ... extend their hands to brotherly Arab peoples in Egypt, who are fettered with chains, to free themselves from the dictatorial rule which caused the separation between Egypt and Syria," the Syrian broadcast said.

OFFICER HELD
The radio call to Egyptians to revolt against Nasser followed an announcement by the Syrian revolutionary government that Lt.-Col. Hamid Serraj, shadowy strongman who had tried to "subvert" the Thursday revolution that tore Syria loose from Nasser's United Arab Republic. Syrian sources in Beirut said the arrest might end the vast-pocket demonstrations being fomented in Syria by Egyptians.

Dispatches from Damascus reported the nation calm under the leadership of Premier Al-Kuzbari although Nasser continued to insist in a Cairo speech that fighting was still going on.

UAR Act Upsets Turkey

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — Turkey expressed regret and surprise Monday that the United Arab Republic is severing diplomatic relations with Ankara following recognition by Turkey of Syria's new breakaway government.

"We find it difficult to understand how this clear position of the Turkish government which was based on the attitude of all concerned, could be misinterpreted as though it were against anyone," declared Turkish Foreign Minister Selim Sarper.

Cairo announced Sunday that President Nasser was breaking relations with both Jordan and Turkey, the first to recognize the provisional Damascus regime.

SEARCH STARTS AT DAWN FOR MISSING CITY HUNTER

A full-scale search with a tracking dog is due to start at dawn today for a Victoria hunter missing in the rugged wilderness nine miles west of Shawnigan Lake since Sunday afternoon.

Gerhard L. Knudsen, about 30, of 1020 Tatterwall, didn't show up at a pre-arranged rendezvous with two hunting partners at 5 p.m. Sunday after the trio had been hunting for three hours on the slopes of Mount Lazar, 30 miles northwest of Victoria.

WAITED HOUR

His companions, Fred Stalley, 20, of 6506 Oldfield, and Ernest Frech, 42, of Cobble Hill, waited for an hour at the rendezvous. Then they started a groping search on their own on the darkened slopes of the mountain, looking vainly for three hours.

TOOTED HORN

"We returned to the car and tooted the horn, fired about 35 shots all over the area, before we nearly ran out of gas," Stalley said.

After about an hour of driving over a mass of logging roads looking for some trace of their companion, the pair returned to Shawnigan Lake for gasoline and notified the RCMP.

SEARCH CONTINUED

Frech returned home and with the help of a logging camp watchman, Stalley continued the search until 1 a.m. yesterday.

At daylight Frech and Stalley resumed the road patrol and search along the slopes. They were later joined by an RCMP constable and Jack Lenfesty of the provincial game department.

FAMILY AWAY

Knudsen is a truck driver for Crystal Spring Beverage Co. Ltd.

His wife and two children are on a three-week holiday in California, a family friend said yesterday.

EXPERIENCED HUNTER

Victoria Flying Club pilot Mike Seeley, with copilot Douglas Gilliland, flew over the area last night but didn't see any indications of a camp fire.

Robert Sinclair, a game department inspector, said plans were being made for a search to start early this morning under Const. Bud Bowyer and game wardens.

An RCMP tracking dog was being brought from Cloverdale overnight to assist in the search.

EAR RIFLE

The hunter is carrying a rifle, a knife and matches, his partners said.

Stalley said a number of Knudsen's co-workers had volunteered to join the search this morning.

De Gaulle Threatens New Grab

PARIS (UPI)—President Charles de Gaulle appealed last night for national unity to combat the mounting wave of terrorism, continued bloodshed and the haunting fear of civil war. His television speech was sabotaged in Algeria.

De Gaulle threatened to resume supreme dictatorial powers to guide France through its "hard and dangerous passage." He said he would dissolve parliament and hold a nationwide referendum vote if France becomes embroiled in another grave political crisis.

CABLES SABOTAGED

His speech was broadcast here and in Algeria, but in the West Algeria port of Oran settler extremists sabotaged it by blowing up transmission cables 10 minutes before the broadcast was due to begin, darkening screens throughout the city.

POLICE FORCE PLANNED

De Gaulle announced plans to organize immediately a police force for Algeria to supervise an eventual self-determination referendum in the North African territory.

He had abandoned last Saturday the emergency powers he assumed during the April general's revolt in Algeria but warned he would not hesitate to use them again if necessary.

Meanwhile, in Algiers, French police raided a headquarters of the Secret Army Organization. Earlier the OAS successfully called off French settlers in a 30-minute strike.

Firm Front By Allies Demanded

PARIS (Reuters)—President de Gaulle called on the Western Allies Monday night to remain firm in the face of Communist threats and to hold off negotiations until the threats cease.

Speaking before a nationwide television and radio audience, de Gaulle said France is "obliged to decide for itself and to invite our allies to remain firm and upright in face of the summonses of the totalitarian bloc."

"Nothing would be more dangerous for our cause, for our security and for our alliance and for peace than to retreat step by step from those who threaten us," he continued.

"He said that as soon as threats ceased, France would be ready to enter into constructive negotiations."

Call to Arms Against Smoke Issued by Angry Taxpayer

Taxpayers should rise up and demand action about Victoria's smoke and fly ash nuisance, a city resident said yesterday.

The call to arms came from Harold Gregson, whose soot-covered home stands at 474 Burnside East in the heart of Victoria's smoke-belt.

The smoke-belt drifts with diminishing intensity from the industrial area across Gorge, Burnside and Douglas towards Swan Lake, with prevailing southwesterly winds.

For 10 years Mr. Gregson has complained to smoke inspectors and civic officials. Now he is turning to the general public.

With firm determination, he has written a letter to city council warning "I do not intend to let up on this matter until I see results before another year passes."

He said residents bothered by smoke and soot should form an air pollution control society similar to one in Vancouver.

People should telephone their complaints to City Hall, he added. "We have the democratic right to keep complaining until something definite is done."

This past summer was as bad as any other and "it seems to me this issue has been getting pushed around," said the angered taxpayer.

"Perhaps we should adopt a new slogan, 'Follow the Smoke to Victoria.' Residents must comply with our city bylaws. So should industry."

Launching for Victoria

Third Ferry Soon

Latest ship for the B.C. government mainland ferry service will be launched at Victoria Machinery Depot, Oct. 24 at 2 p.m.

Mrs. P. B. Scourrah, wife of the mayor, will christen the vessel City of Victoria.

A VMD spokesman said yesterday construction of the third provincial ferry is proceeding on schedule. It is due for delivery in February and when the fourth vessel, now building in Vancouver, joins the run next spring, the ferries will operate on an hourly schedule.

The freighter Lochaven docked at Ogden Point yesterday carrying the main propulsion units for the ship on the ways at VMD.

Each of the four marine diesels built in the U.K. is designed to develop more than 1,500 horsepower.

The engines will be moved through a space left in the hull plating on the port side for this purpose. When the units are in place the hull will be completed.

A work force totalling 220 men is employed on the vessel and final sections of the superstructure—the funnel and mast among them—are being prefabricated for installation before launching.

The City of Victoria is slightly larger than her sisterships Sidney and Tsawwassen, the former also built at VMD, and will carry 1,000 passengers compared with 600 on the prototype vessels.

VMD has no major shipbuilding work in prospect after the government ferry is completed in five months, said company president Harold Husband.

School Vote In Millions Set Oct. 21

Ratepayers in Greater Victoria school district will vote Oct. 21 on a bylaw for the construction of 100 new elementary classrooms and acquisition of additional school sites in the next three years.

Pending cabinet approval, expected any day, school trustees haven't disclosed the amount they are seeking to meet growth in the district from now until the end of 1964.

It is expected, however, the bylaw will be well over $3,000,000.

Among projects likely to be included is a new administrative centre for the school board which has been under pressure to release Craigdarroch Castle for use as a museum.

Classroom construction will be concentrated in the elementary grades to comply with the government's decision to take Grade 7 out of junior high school.

City ratepayers will vote at a single polling place, Central Junior High School.

In surrounding areas, polling places are as follows:

RURAL AREA

Oak Bay, in the municipal hall; Esquimalt, municipal hall and 855 Craigflower; Saanich, at Cedar Hill, Cloverdale, Craigflower, Frank Hobbs, Gordon Head, Marigold, McKendie, Tillicum and Richmond Elementary Schools and Mount View High School; rural area, View Royal Elementary School.

Polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

All sewing courses, three typewriting classes, keep fit classes for women, and elementary electricity were all fully subscribed. A few places are still open in men's recreation, golf and French classes.

MORE WELCOME
Twenty-two people registered for marine piloting. Several more pupils will be welcomed in weaving classes.

Adult education director Jindra Kulich said that unless more registrations are received soon there is danger the folk song circle, intermediate Spanish, industrial mathematics, business arithmetic, arithmetic, conversational German and small furniture building will be removed from the program for the year.

NOT INCLUDED
"How to conduct a meeting" has apparently failed to draw enough interest to warrant being included.

Plans are being made to start a pottery class Thursday and Mr. Kulich has announced students may enrol on the night of the first class.

Although few registered for the armchair travel series, it is expected the first of the series will be held Oct. 19 and will be open to anyone wishing to attend.

The calves, a bull and a heifer, are both well-formed and flourishing. The sire was a registered Ayshire owned by Charles Dawson, Nanaimo Bay.

Local Teachers Ask New Contract Talks

Teachers in Greater Victoria have notified the school board they wish to reopen contract negotiations this month.

A spokesman for Greater Victoria Teachers' Association said last night the move will precipitate discussions on all points in the present contract.

First of a series of meetings, between trustees and representatives of some local teachers is expected to be held next week.

Under provincial regulations, teachers' groups throughout B.C. had until Sept. 30 to signify they wished to reopen contract talks.

Local teachers asked the board to terminate the present contract, a move which will leave both parties free to discuss any item contained in it. The alternative would have been to seek revision of specific clauses with negotiations limited to these points alone.

The parties have until the end of this month to reach agreement before conciliation begins.

Things Going Well In Navy's Exercise

A full-scale test of Pacific Command emergency defence plans which began with recall of all Esquimalt personnel from shore leave Saturday is "developing satisfactorily," the navy said yesterday.

Rear Admiral E. W. Finch-Noyes said lessons learned in previous exercises have been applied to current tests. The result has been an "important improvement" in the command's emergency defence organization, the admiral said.

The three-day exercise, scheduled to end today, involved bringing up all Esquimalt-based ships to full war-time complement and placing the naval establishment on stepped-up security alert.

Warships sailed to designated locations and will continue in a larger joint U.S.-Canadian anti-submarine warfare exercise lasting two weeks.

Two squadrons of RCN destroyer escorts and frigates as well as its submarine and RCAF patrol bombers from Comox will take part in the big exercise. A total of 10,000 men and 150 ships, submarines and planes will participate in an area stretching from California to Alaska.

Don't Panic, Says Reeve Civil Defence Realistic

Don't panic about civil defence, Reeve A. C. Wurtele said last night.

MORE REALISTIC
"Civil defence policies now are much more realistic than they used to be when they advocated every Tom, Dick and Harry chase out of the municipality," he said.

"I feel there is no panic such as we hear about in other places," he told council. He said civil defence proposals should be studied "in a quiet manner but without being apathetic."

Reeve Wurtele, an ex-naval officer, said after the council meeting he believes fallout shelters but thinks there would be plenty of time to stock them if a nuclear war started.

He would be "in a jam" if missiles and bombs rained down without warning. That is what his bomb shelter is used for—a jam buster.

There would be indications and tightening of tensions before an all-out war, said Mr. Wurtele.

Public Funds Misused?

City Can't Clean Inner Harbor

City council is misusing public money in paying to have the Inner Harbor cleared of debris.

The city solicitor (T. P. O'Grady) says we have no right to spend public monies on cleaning the Inner Harbor, city engineer James Garnett said yesterday.

He was speaking at a meeting of the transportation and harbor group of Victoria Chamber of Commerce, held to discuss the problem of flotsam and jetsam in the harbor.

"When it is a small amount like $500, well, it can be laughed off, I suppose," Mr. Garnett said. "If we are going to go for something more exacting than we have now, it is going to cost more money and then where are we?"

Mr. Garnett added the city has no right to make a charge for the use of the city-owned floats in the Inner Harbor.

The meeting of the transportation and harbor group was held specifically to answer questions submitted by council. Council submitted the questions following comment by Capt. George Veres, chairman of the Chamber's harbor group, that present methods of cleaning the harbor are "absolutely inadequate."

Following discussion, the group decided to go on record as appreciating city council's efforts to keep the harbor free of debris and to ask all Chamber members not to throw debris in the harbor.

Victoria harbormaster Capt. Ron Newell warned the debris problem in the harbor was partly caused by log booms which collect rubbish on their way down the coast and deposited the rubbish when they were broken apart.

Capt. Veres told Mr. Garnett he did not feel it was essential that a catamaran (twin-hull) boat be used to collect the rubbish.

Meeting Today

Closed Doors Cloak Carnival Fireworks

Closed doors at city hall this morning will hide the fireworks expected when Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce spokesmen meet representatives of the Greater Victoria Celebrations Association.

Overshadowing the meeting will be the Jaycees' threat to move their annual fair to Esquimalt's new sports arena if city council allows the celebrations association to use Blanshard Street, in front of Memorial Arena, for a carnival at the same time the Jaycees hold their fair.

Arbitrating the meeting will be the city's public works committee, led by Ald. Geoffrey Edgewood as chairman. Other members are Ald. Rev. J. L. W. McLean and Ald. Michael Griffin.

Mayor Percy Scourrah will also be present at the "in camera" meeting.

Representing the GVCA will be M. Frank Hunter, who recently prepared a brief which contended the Jaycees should pay several thousand dollars to the association.

Jaycee president Al Buchan and vice-president Trevor Barlow will represent the junior chamber.

The meeting will consider Mr. Hunter's brief and a reply brief submitted by the Jaycees.

Junior chamber officials have made tentative enquiries about renting the Esquimalt arena and adjacent land for the fair.

The Esquimalt facilities would give the exhibition more covered display space than is available in Memorial Arena and the curling rink.

Flag at Halfmast
In Banks' Memory

The official British Columbia flag was flown at halfmast outside the legislative buildings yesterday in memory of former lieutenant-governor C. A. Banks, who died in Vancouver Thursday. Mr. Banks was lieutenant-governor of B.C. from 1946 to 1950.

Federal 'Funny Money' Logged Out by Bennett

Peter Bruton's NOTEBOOK

ONCE BITTEN, TWICE SHY

The provincial government's war with Ottawa has reached the stage where the B.C. forest service has outlawed federal bonds for use as deposits on timber sale deposits.

From Oct. 16 onward, only B.C. bonds will be accepted in lieu of cash for timber sale deposits.

Apparently the B.C. view is that the federal bonds are not worth the printing on the paper—and the forest service claims it lost $16,717 in the first six months of the year in proving its point.

Premier Bennett has often said his party bonds are better than money.

Now he's out to prove that Ottawa is really the home of the "funny money" boys.

When an operator bids on a timber sale he must submit a certified cheque representing 10 per cent of the total sale price. Later, if his bid is accepted, he may have his money returned if he replaces it with a bond—which collects interest while lying in the provincial treasury.

But sometimes the operator fails to forfeit his deposit—and it has been costing the government plenty.

The $16,717 represents the difference between the face value of federal bonds forfeited by operators and the price the government received through their subsequent sale.

B.C. party bonds never go below par.

The new policy assures the government not only of getting every penny it is owed but also assures Premier Bennett of a steady marked demand for his party bonds.

O, SAY CAN YOU SEE...

A reader wants to know what that "horrible seashell piece of bunting" is which flies in the place of the Union Jack at B.C. schools.

That's our provincial flag, ma'am.

She describes the flag thus: "On this bunting the Union Jack is distorted above a mass of wavering lines suggesting a cheap candy bar or household cleanser."

And she adds: "As a voter I have never been asked if I wished this queer conglomeration to replace the flags of historic tradition. As a school taxpayer on several holdings I strongly, hotly, protest."

HEARD IN PASSING: Old Ed Sullivan

gave addicts of the "idiot box" a quick look at his world tour the other night and finally showed a sequence of some Chinese youngsters in Hong Kong.

"Listen to these kids sing the Yala song," he said.

And with that the youngsters burst forth with "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes!"

THE EARLY BED: In local schools where the shift system is operating it has been found that, on the average, students who attend morning sessions are getting better grades than students who attend in the afternoon.

Teachers believe this is due to the pupils being a lot fresher in the morning.

INCIDENTAL INTEL- LIGENCE: A recent visitor to Seattle reports the Hofbräu is a restaurant which specializes in Bavarian meals and Tyrolean atmosphere. The cook is Chinese.

Siren Talk Soon For Courtenay

COURTENAY — Representatives of the Canadian Army will meet city officials soon to discuss location of civil defence sirens here.

Ald. Ian Birnie, chairman of the public protection committee, and Fire Chief Lorne Cleland were named last night to act for council at the meeting.

Victorian Admits Charge

PORT ALBERNI — Thomas Harry Happynook of Victoria was fined $125 when he pleaded guilty in Port Alberni court yesterday to a charge of impaired driving.

The prosecuting officer said Happynook's 1941 model car had rolled over on Stamp Avenue at 2:35 a.m. Sunday, striking a power pole. Happynook, who with his passengers had left the scene prior to arrival of police, had later reported the vehicle stolen, but had admitted on questioning he had been driving at the time of the accident.

Bells Ring Up Prize Catch At Tyee Club

PORT ALBERNI — Members of Alberni Valley Tyee Club caught a total of 6,497 pounds of tyee during the nine-week season, according to a report made by Norm Waugh at the club's annual banquet Sunday.

He reported 229 persons had signed up for membership during the year and the average catch was exactly 32 pounds.

Jack Bell, who received the trophy for the largest tyee of the season, also received three awards for weekly competitions, three of the hidden weight prizes donated by local merchants and one of the four gold buttons presented to those catching fish in the 50 to 60-pound category.

His wife Doris received a club trophy for the eighth week of the season and was also awarded the Chamber of Commerce trophy for the largest tyee caught by a woman during 'tyee' week.

Presentation was made by chamber president Gordon Jenks.

HIDDEN WEIGHT
The R. & E. Crushing Ltd. hidden weight prize, a $100 watch, was won by Norm Blenkinsop.

Winning weekly trophies besides Jack and Doris Bell were Bill Bell, Gordon Herbertson, Benny Steele and Nick Peters.

Rud Johnson, who took home the Port Social Club rosebowl for winning the closed derby Sunday, was laden down with the movie camera and equipment, first prize in the derby, and a mantle radio, won as a door prize.

Cowichan Bay

Three Anglers Inside the Limit

DUNCAN — First offenders under the fish and game regulations governing Cowichan Bay appeared before Magistrate A. C. Sutton yesterday. They were charged with fishing inside the limits which are clearly marked with two white triangles, and each fined $10.

A department of fisheries officer said Walter Ritchie of Victoria, Milton MacAulay of Duncan and Gaston Miron of Duncan were all apprehended by a patrol vessel. The officer added: "We simply had to bring them before the court, because some sports fishermen are going into the restricted area when the patrol ship is at the other end of the line, and we have a very valuable run of spring salmon in the bay right now."

Search Tug Down Ways

VANCOUVER (CP) — A sleek, glass fibre tug, designed for search and rescue work, was launched here Monday.

Its owner, John Humphreys, 29, of Campbell River, claims the 34-foot vessel is the first ever made of fibre and the only privately-owned, specially-designed search and rescue boat on the B.C. coast.

Humphreys said the boat would be used for rescue work in Alert Bay, Johnstone Strait and around Nanaimo.

Mock War 'Great Success'

DUNCAN — Duncan civil defence co-ordinator E. C. Babin, a witness of the mock "nuclear" attack on Vernon Saturday, said in Duncan yesterday the exercise was a "great success."

He said every effort had been made to plan the exercise carefully so its message could be effectively delivered to the large crowd of municipal representatives and officials attending the UBCM convention in Vernon.

He was impressed with the advanced treatment centre, set up and operated by the health services, and added one such centre would be on display in Duncan Nov. 10.

Duncan Given Story Of University Plans

DUNCAN — Prof. R. T. Wallace, vice-principal of Victoria University and member of Victoria Rotary Club, told Duncan Rotarians last night about the new plans for Victoria University.

He traced the progress of the institution from early beginnings in 1903 when there were seven students and forecast an enrollment of 2,100 next year.

He was particularly gratified, he said, when Bruce Marshall, selecting officer for the National Research Council, told him more research scholarships were won by Victoria University students than from any other college in Canada.

In the physical planning of the new campus, which was being handled by a special faculty committee, he said, the academic future of the college was not being lost sight of.

Another special faculty committee was making a study of this aspect.

Prof. Wallace said contracts for the construction of a classroom block would be let within the next six weeks. The $350,000 building when complete will have a seating capacity for 850 students.

This will be closely followed by the calling of tenders for a $350,000 students' union building. The $2,000,000 science building tenders would be called for in December.

Guns Wanted For Shelters

VANCOUVER (CP)—A downtown gun dealer said Monday he sold three to four guns a day last week to people who wanted them for "home protection" in the event of a nuclear attack.

The dealer said buyers said they wanted to defend their families from anyone trying to enter their fallout shelters.

Sandys 'Clears The Air'

ACCRA (Reuters) — Commonwealth Relations Secretary Duncan Sandys and Ghana's President Kwame Nkrumah talked for two hours Monday in an effort to "clear the air" between Britain and Ghana before a royal visit by Queen Elizabeth next month.

They will meet again today.

POOR RELATIONS
There have been widespread reports in both the British and Ghanaian press about deteriorating relations between Britain and its former West African territory.

Some British press reports claim Nkrumah wants to get the royal visit cancelled, fearing that a tremendous reception the Queen is expected to receive here will point up his own weakening prestige.

PRESS ATTACK
Sandys' arrival here was marked by a strong editorial of the pro-government Ghanaian Times attacking sections of the British press for "already belittling out that Mr. Sandys is coming to Ghana for a 'showdown' with Dr. Nkrumah."

Worst-Ever Forest Toll Passes 7,600,000 Acres

OTTAWA (UPI)—Toll of forest fires this season, certain to be the worst on record, will surpass the record set in 1919 when 7,600,000 acres of forest were burned by 5,223 fires, according to officials.

At the end of August, 7,300,000 acres had been burned or damaged by 9,050 fires this season.

'Bomber' Harris Blasts Historians

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain's wartime air chiefs hit back Monday in a bitter controversy over a new official history of the bombing offensive against Nazi Germany. The history claims the aerial campaign was a "costly failure" for three-quarters of the Second World War. (See also Page 2.)

Sir Arthur (Bomber) Harris, marshal of the Royal Air Force and wartime chief of the Bomber Command, joined with Air Vice-Marshal Donald Bennett in protesting against alleged inaccuracies and omissions in the history entitled The Strategic Air Offensive Against Germany, 1939-1945. Harris emerged from his self-imposed obscurity at his

Thames-side home to condemn the history as "biased from cover to cover."

He told reporters the night bombing attacks by the RAF that killed more than 1,000,000 Germans contributed decisively to the allied victory.

Bennett, who commanded the famed RAF Pathfinder force, said "this cold, critical and inaccurate history, is to say the least, an astonishing act of ingratitude."

The 1,700-page, four-volume history was compiled by the late Sir Charles Webster and Dr. Noble Frankland, director of the Imperial War Museum and a former member of the Bomber Command.

The authors wrote that the Bomber Command started "terror raids" on cities because it was incapable of hitting anything smaller.

Despite the devastation of many residential areas, the authors said, the will of the German people was not even significantly impaired by the attacks and the effect on German war production was remarkably small.

ROUGH AREA COMBED FOR MISSING HUNTER

A full-scale search with a tracking dog is due to start at dawn today for a Victoria hunter missing in the rugged wilderness nine miles west of Shawnigan Lake since Sunday afternoon.

Gerhard L. Knudsen, about 30, of 1020 Tattersall, didn't show up at a pre-arranged rendezvous with two hunting partners at 5 p.m. Sunday after the trio had been hunting for three hours on the slopes of Mount Lazar, 30 miles northwest of Victoria.

WAITED HOUR

His companions, Fred Stalley, 20, of 8506 Oldfield, and Ernest Frech, 42, of Cobble Hill, waited for an hour at the rendezvous. Then they started a groping search on their own on the darkened slopes of the mountain, looking vainly for three hours.

'TOOTED HORN'

"We returned to the car and tooted the horn, fired about 35 shots all over the area, before we nearly ran out of gas," Stalley said.

After about an hour of driving over a maze of logging roads looking for some trace of their companion, the pair returned to Shawnigan Lake for gasoline and notified the RCMP.

SEARCH CONTINUED

Frech returned home and, with the help of a logging camp watchman, Stalley continued the search until 1 a.m. yesterday.

At daylight Frech and Stalley resumed the road patrol and search along the slopes. They were later joined by an RCMP constable and Jack Lemley of the provincial game department.

FAMILY AWAY

Knudsen is a truck driver for Crystal Spring Beverage Co. Ltd.

His wife and two children are on a three-week holiday in California, a family friend said last night.

'EXPERIENCED HUNTER'

Stalley said Knudsen is an experienced hunter, and "knows how to handle himself in the bush."

Victoria Flying Club pilot Mike Seesay, with co-pilot Douglas Gilliland, flew over the area last night but didn't see any indications of a campfire.

Robert Sinclair, a game department inspector, said plans were being made for a search to start early this morning under Const. Bud Bowyer and game wardens.

HAS RIFLE

An RCMP tracking dog was being brought from Cloverdale overnight to assist in the search.

The hunter is carrying a rifle, a knife and matches, his partners said.

Stalley said a number of Knudsen's co-workers had volunteered to join the search this morning.

GERHARD L. KNUDSEN

De Gaulle Threatens New Grab

PARIS (UPI)—President Charles de Gaulle appealed last night for national unity to combat the mounting wave of terrorism, continued bloodshed and the haunting fear of civil war. His television speech was sabotaged in Algeria.

De Gaulle threatened to resume supreme dictatorial powers to guide France through its "hard and dangerous passage." He said he would dissolve parliament and hold a nationwide referendum vote if France becomes embroiled in another grave political crisis.

CABLES SABOTAGED
His speech was broadcast here and in Algeria, but in the West Algeria port of Oran neither extremists sabotaged it by blowing up transmission cables 10 minutes before the broadcast was due to begin, darkening screens throughout the city.

De Gaulle announced plans to organize immediately a police force for Algeria to supervise an eventual self-determination referendum in the North African territory.

NO HESITATION

He had abandoned last Saturday the emergency powers he assumed during the April general's revolt in Algeria but warned he would not hesitate to use them again if necessary.

Meanwhile, in Algiers, French police raided a headquarters of the Secret Army Organization. Earlier the OAS successfully called off French settlers in a 30-minute strike.

Speaking before a nationwide television and radio audience, de Gaulle said France is "obliged to decide for itself and to invite our allies to remain firm and upright in face of the summonses of the totalitarian bloc."

"Nothing would be more dangerous for our cause, for our security and for our alliance and for peace than to retreat step by step from those who threaten us," he continued.

He said that, as soon as threats ceased, France would be ready to enter into constructive negotiations.

Firm Front By Allies Demanded

PARIS (Reuters) — President de Gaulle called on the Western Allies Monday night to remain firm in the face of Communist threats and to hold off negotiations until the threats cease.

Speaking before a nationwide television and radio audience, de Gaulle said France is "obliged to decide for itself and to invite our allies to remain firm and upright in face of the summonses of the totalitarian bloc."

"Nothing would be more dangerous for our cause, for our security and for our alliance and for peace than to retreat step by step from those who threaten us," he continued.

He said that, as soon as threats ceased, France would be ready to enter into constructive negotiations.

Overthrow Nasser Syria Tells Egypt

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI)

—Damascus radio in newly independent Syria broadcast an appeal last night to Egyptians to revolt against the rule of President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The broadcast, heard here, said the appeal was signed by 17 politicians "working in the national and nationalist fields" in Syria. (See stories Page 8.)

HANDS EXTENDED

"The Arab people in Syria ... extend their hands to brotherly Arab peoples in Egypt, who are fettered with chains, to free themselves from the dictatorial rule which caused the separation between Egypt and Syria," the Syrian broadcast said.

OFFICER HELD

The radio call to Egyptians to revolt against Nasser followed an announcement by the Syrian revolutionary government that Lt. Col. Hamid Serraj, shadowy strongman who became Nasser's right hand man in Syria, has been arrested.

The charges were that he had tried to "subvert" the

Thursday revolution that tore Syria loose from Nasser's United Arab Republic. Syrian sources in Beirut said the "arrest might end the vest-pocket demonstrations being fomented in Syria by Egyptians."

Dispatches from Damascus reported the nation calm under the leadership of Premier Al-Kuzbari although Nasser continued to insist in a Cairo speech that fighting was still going on.

Chamber Endorses Export of Power

HALIFAX (CP)—Export of surplus electric power by Canada was endorsed Monday night by the policy committee of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

PRINCIPLE SUPPORTED

A policy declaration submitted by the Vancouver board of trade, which won approval, gave support to the principle that agreements of the nature of the Columbia River treaty must always ensure that Canada will enjoy its fair share of downstream benefits and provide for the ultimate recapture of power rights should such energy be required in Canada.

The declaration added: "Wherever there is a potential surplus of electric power in Canada it would appear to be in the national interest to permit such safeguards as may be necessary to meet the ultimate energy requirements of Canada."

NOT FAMILIAR

A further Vancouver proposal that the power export tax be repealed was referred to the chamber's executive council after delegates said they were not sufficiently familiar with what might be involved to make a decision.

Vancouver Detectives Suspended

VANCOUVER (CP) — Two city detectives have been suspended from the Vancouver police department pending investigation of charges against them.

NOT IDENTIFIED

Police officials here Monday confirmed the suspensions, but did not identify the two officers nor the nature of the charges. The men were believed to have been attached to the gambling squad.

FOUR FIRED

The suspensions went into effect Friday.

Four policemen have been released from the force and another demoted in disciplinary actions so far this year.

Diefenbaker Going to UN?

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker indicated after a cabinet meeting Monday that he may go to New York to address the United Nations General Assembly.
